

Town of St. Albert faces mammoth problems

When the 200 who attended the town sponsored political forum left the Club Mocombo last Wednesday night - they must have been sure of one thing.

The Town of St. Albert is faced with mammoth problems in the areas of growth, recreation, transportation, new services, traffic and the quality of life in general.

The 14 candidates for town office - two for Mayor - can hardly have failed to notice that when the three and a half hour meeting was over at 11 p.m., there were only 50 people left to hear the summations.

Bob Osborne chaired the meeting, each candidate was allotted four minutes to present their platform, the candidates for mayor two minutes extra. Each candidate was then asked to reply to a general question about growth and after coffee the meeting was thrown open to the floor.

The 12 running for councill are: John Bakker, John de Bruijn, Myrna Fyfe, Robert Hudson, Frank Lukay

and Rod Thirondson, (Incumbents), and new candidates: Barry Breadner, Cliff Keyes, Jim Sanborne, Charles Schroder, Margaret Smith, and Garry Wetsch. Mayor

Ray Gibbon seeks re-election and Dick Plain is the only challenger for the mayorality.

It was when the meeting was thrown open to the public that the potholes began flying and the comment which brought the biggest re-action of the night was from the floor.

"With all this talk about a swimming pool, I'm just wondering if we'll have any water to put in it?"

Mr. Lukay replied and admitted that the town had been experiencing severe problems with the water supply.

"We've had problems this summer to the extent we are short of water," he said, and calculated the present town consumption at roughly 1800 gallons per minute, with the 1000 gallons a minute allowed from Edmonton tying in with an already existing line supplying 750 gallons a minute. He pointed out that under a new agreement, the town was looking at a new line from the Rosslyn plant supplying an extra 1200 gallons per minute.

Also during question time the problem of siting the new regional shopping centre came up with specific reference to the Shaprio location.

Following is a sample of the replies made by the candidates to this specific question, Mr. Lukay said that he could not say he was in favour of any site until he knew more of the plans for development. However he pointed out that council had studied the problem and had decided that the Shaprio site would be the best for several reasons though there was no way council was committed to re-zone the area.

Mr. Sanborne said he was opposed to the Shaprio site because of the effects on the Grandin residential area and also because such a large development would attract more traffic from the city. Mrs. Smith was against the Shaprio site for environmental reasons. Mr. Breadner said that many people lean to a northerly site (beyond the Sturgeon River) and he was not prepared to give a decision. Mr. Plain said he was against a shopping centre which took up residential land and also pointed out that the developers had not yet the type of analysis necessary for a hard no-decision. Mayor Gibbon said he favoured the Shaprio site since it had better access than the Abbey Glen location.

Such a location he pointed out would pose transportation problems and the creation of a rapid transit system. He said it would also

LISTENING TO WHAT 14 candidates for council had to say at the town sponsored public forum in the Club Mocombo last Wednesday night, part of the crowd of 200 who turned up for the first meeting. The second meeting was held Sunday and the final meeting will be held tonight (October 9) also at the Club Mocombo.

Large crowd on hand to hear candidates at Sunday's Forum

About 70 people were on hand at the beginning of the Chamber of Commerce Public Forum featuring the candidates for Mayor and Council and the number swelled to over 100 by the mid-point of the meeting. Following exhortations by the candidates and a brief break for coffee, the gloves were taken off and candidates responded to specific questions from the floor.

The first question, aimed at Dr. Plain, asked him to speculate on what he would have done to limit the growth of the Town if he had held the position of mayor during the last four years. Dr. Plain stated that he would have attempted limiting development but would have gone to the people for their feelings using a referendum to monitor their desires. The question also asked Dr. Plain to identify the method he would have followed in turning people away from the Town. Dr. Plain said that there are a choice of alternatives for places to live in the region and the alternatives would be available for places to live. He further stated that he would not have followed the course which has been followed, saying that a reasonable rate is preferable to the 100 per cent growth over the past four years. He added that he has one vote and it was up to the majority to pick the path to follow looking at the alternatives. The questioner pressed Dr. Plain to explain how the referendum would have worked out and what would be done if a poor turnout was experienced. To this Dr. Plain stated that the plebiscite would be based on the majority of people who would vote and he considered that the people would respond by turning out to cast their vote.

The next question asked was directed at the incumbent mayor, Ray Gibbon, and asked why the council did not follow the idea of a 20 year reserve on lands accumulated for development. The individual asking the question mentioned that this would have permitted greater control of growth. Mr. Gibbon responded by stating that the council has gone on the basis of proper planning of annexation, annexing each neighborhood upon completion, and not annexing except on a required basis. He went on to state that development is done as it is required.

The next question was directed to the incumbent mayor and councillors excluding Mr. Lukay who has voted in opposition to many of the development proposals brought before the council. The question called for four benefits to be mentioned by each member of council accrued by the rapid growth of the Town. The responses from the councillors were redundant with each of the speakers mentioning that the present condition of the Town provides more people to pay for the services provided.

Baha'is elect 2 local delegates to Assembly

Last Sunday, October 6, Sir Alexander Mackenzie School was filled with the many sounds of the annual Regional Baha'i Convention, hosted this year by the St. Albert Baha'i community. About 70 attended the function. Adults took turns with children's classes while consultation proceeded throughout the day.

The election of six delegates who will later attend the National Convention to elect the National Spiritual Assembly was the major business of the morning. The six delegates are: Mr. Paul Bujold, Edmonton; Mrs. Ruth Eyrford, St. Albert; Mr. Brian Murdoch, Edmonton; Mr. Hassan Rushby, Strathcona County; Mr. David Sherwin, Red Deer; and Mrs. Lynn Smith, St. Albert.

Other activities at the convention included hearing messages from the National Assembly, the Universal House of Justice, and the Continental Board of Counsellors delivered in person by Mr. Ted Anderson, Auxiliary Board Member. After these messages were delivered, all those at the Convention consulted about the affairs of the Faith, expressed their various concerns, and made a number of recommendations which the delegates will present at the National Convention.

Baha'i meetings and discussion groups open to the public are usually listed in "Billboard" or in ads elsewhere in the Gazette.

This is the scene last Sunday at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School as Baha'is consulted with their elected delegates about the Baha'i Faith in the Northern Alberta Region and in Canada generally.

Sunday forum

Myrna Fyfe stated that the Town was contributing more to regional development which offsets annexation of the town by the City of Edmonton.

Mr. de Bruijn listed four points - more funds in municipal pot with the funds spread over a greater area, offsite costs providing reserve capital for the sewer and water facilities, providing a place for his two married sons to live, and more people paying for the recreational facilities. Mr. Hudson stated that limited growth is beyond the bounds of the Town because the obligation goes beyond the people living in the community. He stated that there is an obligation to provide serviced land in which new residents may live.

Mr. Thordson stated that the sewer line had to be built and paid for and the more people, the more money. Mr. Bakker stated that the total debt of the Town is going down as a result, and that there is more money for more purposes and asked what is going to happen if no one is allowed in. Mr. Gibbon stated that he agreed with both Mr. Bakker and Mr. Hudson and said that the sewer line has only cost the new residents. He also stated that a lot of fine people had moved in to the Town which is an obvious benefit to this community.

Mr. Lukay asked for permission to speak to clarify his stand on the question of growth and stated that he was not in opposition to growth. He did state that he takes issue with permitting others into the Town if they were in danger of running short of services. He granted that more funds are available but mentioned that the demand increased proportionately. He stated that it must be made certain that provisions are made for new resident inflow in the area of recreation. He also stated that the construction of the new sewer line was not a requirement. Rather, he said that it had been advised only if the Town was to continue its growth.

Mr. Gibbon was asked what the council is doing to provide better access to the City of Edmonton in the light of the demand placed on the St. Albert Trail. Mr. Gibbon stated that the major bottlenecks were recognized to be 137 Avenue, 118, 125 and 111. He stated that he has been advised that the St. Albert Trail is to be widened by adding another lane each way and that inter-municipal transit assistance is upcoming. He also said that representation is being made to have 170 Avenue and 170 Street come under the Secondary Highway Act and thus promote better access to the City of Edmonton.

Barry Breadner was asked for his feeling on the Downtown redevelopment and he stated that redevelopment was desirable but said that he was concerned in regards to an arena and park. He stated that the Recreation Board report recommended a through Town Park along the Sturgeon River. He said that he would prefer a second arena and not a new one in place of what exists already.

The next question was directed at Mr. Lukay and asked for clarification on reserve supply of water. Mr. Lukay stated that the Town had constructed a storage reservoir which would provide water for two or three days. Mr. Gibbon added that the Town had a two million gallon reservoir in place at the time of the water shortage this summer. He also stated that the reservoir was not filled because two valves were not in place. He said that it was discovered that these reservoirs were not filled and this was not known until it was too late. Mr. Hudson stated that there was not much inconvenience as a result of the water shortage, but noted that the situation could have been handled better from a public relations point of view.

The next question was directed to both Mr. Gibbon and Mr. Platin and asked for responses to the water situation facing the Town. Mayor Gibbon began, stating that the new water line would mean an extra 1200 gallons per minute bringing the total gallons of water coming to the Town to 1,950 gallons per minute for 1975 only. This applies only for 1975 but continued at an increasing rate for each year until 1979 when a new agreement will be signed. The mayor also pointed out that the City of Edmonton will soon have their Terwilliger Plant in operation which will ease the water situation and leave no restriction on the draw if water is needed. Dr. Platin stated that the May 15 date mentioned as the completion date for the second water line is a fictitious date which no one can confirm. Mr. Luk-ay stated that he hoped that the May date mentioned for the completion of the second water line would be realized adding that it will be horrible if it does not bear true.

Mrs. Fyfe was asked if she was satisfied with the progress of Preventative Social Service. She stated that the position of Social Service Director had been upgraded and that the mandate had been given to go ahead with planning. She stated that the public board had provided input in this area, and this input had been of a low key variety. She mentioned that the board assists in the continuity of the priorities especially in the case of teenagers who have little provided in the Town. She stated that investigation was being done in the realm of senior citizen assistance.

Mr. Gibbon was questioned about the buffering in the area to the east of Forest Lawn which is zoned industrial and stated for industrial development. The mayor stated that the area is 1/2 mile away from the residential development with a quarter section of land between. He stated that each area approved for the purpose of industrial development includes a 10 per cent dedication which would further be utilized for the purpose of buffering. He also mentioned that the only method of getting to this area would be 142 Street which is not up to standard therefore Bourdreaud Road would be the most likely access to the area and it is being brought up to truck route standard.

Mrs. Fyfe was asked to give information on what was being done by the Town regarding the institution of a green belt and she stated that St. Albert was petitioning the provincial government in this regard. Mr. Thordson was then asked to state what he considered to be light industrial development and he stated that light industrial is simply non polluting industry. This was the final flurry of questions after which each of the candidates were given an opportunity to state a summation before the meeting adjourned.

Recreation Director looks forward to new post

BERNIE MARCH

Having spent six years with the Physical Education and Recreation Branch of the Canadian Armed Forces, three years as Director of Recreation for the Town of Killarney, and lastly a year as Director of Parks and Recreation for the Town of The Pas, I look forward to my new position as Director of Recreation for the Town of St. Albert.

During my four years in Manitoba as a Director of Recreation I have had the opportunity to serve two years on the Executive of the Manitoba Municipal Recreation Directors Association. Presently I am a member of the Canadian Parks and Recreation Association.

My managerial experience with the Armed Forces included arena and pool management as well as program co-ordinator. My leadership experience has included various areas which have been varied and challenging to keep up with today's sophisticated forces.

It has been my good fortune to have had articles published in the National Magazine, Recreation Canada, and the Provincial, Manitoba Parks and Recreation.

My educational background consists of Military School, numerous armed forces courses related to Physical Education and, lastly, Brandon University, Brandon, Manitoba.

I was married Sept. 15, 1973, and have no children. My wife and I look forward to making our home in St. Albert.

Air Cadet Week in St. Albert

St. Albert Squadron #533 of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets are using the week of October 7 - 11 to recruit new members and inform residents of the youth program.

Courses are offered over a wide range of training, including flying subjects, defensive driving, photography, first aid, effective speaking, model aircraft and rocketry, rifle range, band, aero engines, drill, administration and sports.

During the summer months, camps offer further activities for those cadets qualifying (requiring attendance at over 50 per cent of regular Thursday night parades for one thing). Certified camp courses are Cadet N.C.O., Band and Bush Survival.

There are in addition three Cadet Scholarship Courses for eligible cadets - Pilot Training (Powered), Glider Pilot and International Air Cadet Exchange Visit. Trips, tours, parties and banquets round out the comprehensive program for the young people.

Girls and boys aged 13 - 18 years are accepted and 533 Squadron has a proud history of accomplishment, winning top provincial squadron awards and also drill team championships and sports trophies in tough competition. The girls have made a strong stand and are continuing to do so in the matter of getting full acceptance from the Department of National Defence so that all programs, including flying training are open to them. DND pays for transportation and equipment and $3 annually for each boy on parade.

The Air Cadet program is also supported by the League of Canada and a civilian sponsoring body, in the case of #533, the St. Albert Lions Club.

For training in good citizenship, leadership and co-operation combined with personal and group discipline, and physical fitness teen-age boys and girls would do well to look at joining the squadron. Beside the many outings and good fellowship, plus scholarship and camp opportunities, are a lot of fun. Call 459-7277 Thursday evenings between 7 and 9:30 p.m. to enquire about enrolling.

AROUND TOWN

Keith and Pat Hamilton were guests of Alberta author Margaret Coleman Johnson for the Search-for-a-New-Alberta-Novelist Awards banquet on Friday, October 4. Held at the Mayfair Golf and Country Club, the evening honoured the winners of the 1973 competition as well as announcing the winners of this year's awards. The top prize for 1974 went to Betty Wilson of Edmonton for her novel, "Where is My Feet."

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion held their last regular bingo October 7. The jackpot was won by Phyllis Grayden and Ron Wallenweber, each getting $45.00. The auxiliary will be holding a turkey bingo December 2 and would like to thank all those who support the bingos.

Mr. Andre Tardiff was in St. Albert Friday and able to drop in on some of his old friends. The former manager of the Bank of Montreal - now in the City of Montreal - is in Edmonton on an inspection tour.

Mr. Colin Ford has been appointed to the Advisory Board of Hillside House by the Provincial Department of Health and Social Development. The Advisory Board is comprised of professional and lay people and it is hoped to include parent representation and perhaps people who have gone through the centre as well. Mr. Ford previously worked for the Vocational Rehabilitation and Research Institute in Calgary. The Hillside Centre which helps people become self sufficient is the only one of its kind in northern Alberta, and Mr. Ford sees lay people serving in an information role.

the Gazette REFLECTS

The final week preceding the Municipal and School Boards elections on October 16th will be one hectic activity and hard work for the 28 candidates, their campaign managers and workers. In a town of some 5,000 households it is hardly possible for a person seeking office to meet every voter possible, even with the several forums and many group meetings being hosted in private homes. In this election however a very determined effort is evident on the part of the candidates. The campaigning is more visible and larger sums are being spent on average than has been the case over the past eight years.

All of which is serving to bring issues of local government forcefully to the attention of residents. In addition the campaigning has served a good purpose in getting quite a good number of people together to discuss directions, needs and goals for their community. Many have met men and women they didn't know before in recent weeks, which helps newcomers in particular to feel part of the Town.

It now remains for the voters to do their part. To assess and weigh the alternatives they will have on the ballot through careful thought, and using their individual best judgement.

There is a week left for voters to contact the candidates if they wish further information on how they stand on any concern. Tonight there is a public forum where mayoralty and council candidates may be heard and tomorrow night a public meeting with trustees of both school districts appearing.

The choices made by voters will have an important bearing on the policies adopted. Policies which will direct their community affairs, and flow downward to pervade their daily living. Those choices are equally and probably more important in selecting trustees, who have larger budgets to administer and heavy responsibilities with regard to students at all age levels.

In choosing a mayor there is a further consideration involved, for in this case the voters choose a leader, which is why the interest in the mayoralty campaign invariably runs higher than in any other.

Local governments have no opposition parties to serve in the role of a watchdog. Further responsibility therefore remains with the voters after their ballots are cast - both to support and sometimes to criticize their elected representatives.

In sorting out the alternatives and promises at election time it is always useful to remember - There's no such thing as a Free Lunch!

Let Council decide

I would like to comment on statements made at the two public forums, regarding certain candidates views on more public participation in decision making.

As a resident of St. Albert for 12 years I personally feel I, and the majority of residents do not wish to continually attend meetings to help council make decisions. We elect council members to do this. The 50-100 people who attend such meetings do not necessarily represent the wishes of 20,000.

Control Growth Now

A most interesting program was aired last week on CITYV called "WHERE WILL THE CHILDREN PLAY." The subject was urban growth and how it is being dealt with in different centres in North America.

The major point is, urban growth is no longer considered to be favourable when the QUALITY of life is affected; when there are no open, spacious green areas just to enjoy by their very presence.

The citizens of Boulder, Colo. have decided to virtually halt the growth of their community because they wanted to preserve the small town atmosphere. This town is in a similar situation to St. Albert with its proximity to Denver, Colo. Boulder started out as a bedroom community and the residents would like to stay that way.

In our own country, the Vancouver regional planners have noted the rapid decline of the quality of life since the late 50's and the rapid rise in the same period, of social and economic problems; e.g. crime, traffic congestion, lack of open space and adequate recreational facilities and general discontent of the population.

These planners have also come to the conclusion that the building of more roads and freeways only encourages people to use their cars instead of public transit and congestion is not reduced. They have come to the conclusion that the population stream to the area must be halted and they are, therefore, looking at ways and means to halt growth.

I realize that Boulder, Colo. and Vancouver are certainly much larger than St. Albert but this is my point. Now is the time to control growth here, before we are in the position of the above mentioned centres. A population of 80,000, as projected by council would mean the end of the unique atmosphere of our town at present. (Present odor not included).

Anyone who can not perceive that such growth is undesirable and can be prevented is hiding his head in the sand and living 40 years behind the times.

Thank you very much for the use of your valuable

Signs of the times under discussion

The preponderance of election signs along the Highway which are contrary to the Bylaw which was instituted to eliminate the placing of such was brought up for discussion at the Committee of the Whole meeting under Other Business at the meeting on Monday night. Councillor Bakker moved that the letter received from Mr. Mac Lyle be added to the agenda in order that the matter could be dealt with.

A 6 to 0 vote (Coun. de Bruijn was out of town) was received for adding the topic to the agenda and Coun. Bakker immediately moved that the bylaw be enforced. Coun. Hudson asked that it be noted that the duration of time which the signs would be up was of a short span and that the circumstances are unique in this case in the light of the election. "I think that it may have some influence on the turnout at the polls," Coun. Hudson stated, "I think that the more campaigning that is done in every regard, the greater the opportunity to bring the election to the attention of the public." He stated that in the light of the rewards

Cable television to cover election

Live coverage of the 1974 Civic Election in St. Albert will be carried on the community video channel of Capital Cable T.V. with Alex Mirlin of the Gazette reporting from Town Hall. This is the first time that St. Albert will have an election covered with such immediacy.

Mr. Jack Fallet, spokesman for Capital Cable, states that reports will come from Town Hall as quickly as the votes are received from the polling stations. Though the figures will not be verified as official until the following day, it is anticipated that the added coverage of the election should provide the residents of the community the most rapid and accurate report on the progress of the election as possible.

The television broadcast will be carried on Cable 11.

Lady Lions

The Lady Lions decided at their October meeting that they would meet on the third Monday of each month, starting in November. The meeting was held October 7 at the Club Mocombo.

Plans for the annual Sweethearts Ball held in conjunction with Valentine's Day were discussed and a committee was formed to look after arrangements.

Executive meetings will be held monthly on the second Monday, with the next one falling on November 11 at 8 p.m. at the home of Elsie Snider.

to be received, the placement of signs would be justified. Coun. Bakker stated that "a Bylaw is a Bylaw" and that this was for everybody to conform to.

Coun. Thronson stated that there was a need for a change in the bylaw to allow for the placement of signs in the case of elections. Mr. Byron stated that the Town staff was aware of the nature of the signs and the particular circumstances behind the placement. Coun. Bakker stated that the reason why he had put forward the motion was to demonstrate to staff that the bylaw had the support of council.

Coun. Lukay stated that he was not in opposition to the motion but that he felt it was the responsibility of the individuals concerned to remove the signs. He also stated that there was value in placing signs at times such as these with the intention being to bring attention to the election.

Coun. Fyfe moved an amendment to the motion to the effect that the bylaw would be enforced on the day of the election. Dealing with the amendment first, the vote was 3 to 3 which defeated the amendment. In dealing with the actual motion, the vote was 2 to 4 and the motion was defeated. Coun. Bakker and Mayor Gibbon voted in favour of the motion.

THE PLACE IN WHICH YOU CHOSE TO LIVE

DURING THIS ELECTION CAMPAIGN, YOU'VE BEEN TELLING ME THAT YOU WANT THE IDEAL SOCIAL ENVIRONMENTAL AND FINANCIAL COMMUNITY SETTING FOR ST. ALBERT, THE PLACE YOU HAVE SELECTED TO LIVE.

AS A RESIDENT OF THIS TOWN AND MAYOR FOR SIX YEARS, I SHARE YOUR CONCERN AND YOUR IDEALS. I WANT TO BE AS PROUD OF 'HOME' AS YOU DO.

I HAVE OUTLINED THE MANY PROBLEMS THAT FACE COUNCIL AND TOWN ADMINISTRATION, AND HAVE BEEN DEALING WITH THEM IN A PRACTICAL AND VERY REAL SENSE. MANY OF THE FACILITIES YOU SEEK HAVE BEEN PLANNED AND WILL BE READY FOR YOUR USE IN THE VERY NEAR FUTURE.

BEING THE INCUMBENT IN THIS ELECTION, I MUST RELY ON FACT. I MUST DEFEND A REALISTIC AND PRACTICAL APPROACH TO ALL PROBLEMS. I CANNOT ENJOY THE FREEDOMS ALLOWED BY GENERALIZING, AND I CANNOT RESORT TO THE THEORETICAL APPROACH. THEORY ON PAPER IS QUITE DIFFERENT WHEN PUT TO ACTUAL APPLICATION.

I ASK YOU TO REFLECT ON THE LEADERSHIP AND QUALIFICATIONS TO DO THE BEST, PRACTICAL JOB AS MAYOR. AT THE END OF THE CAMPAIGN, THE FINAL JUDGEMENT RESTS WITH YOU. YOUR JUDGEMENT IS EXPRESSED THROUGH THE BALLOT... AND I ASK YOU TO PLEASE RENDER YOUR VERDICT ON OCTOBER 16.

Mammoth problems mean filling in on the river which had been designated as parkland. As far as the slough near the Grandin location was concerned he said it had never been council's intention to fill this and the mayor said it would more likely be turned into an aerated fish pond.

Recreational facilities were also a point of contention during question time specifically relating to the arena on Perron Street.

Mr. Schroder, who had been on the "token" Parks and Recreation Board said he had learned about the location of the arena from the "Gazette" at a time when the council felt that the major need was for a recreation centre in the Sturgeon Heights near the Paul Kane school. Here there was room for a covered arena and swimming pool as well as tennis facilities and parking. Mr. de Bruijn said he had started the arena and he accepted any responsibilities, but now he was in favour of incorporating the arena into a new structure along with governmental offices. Mr. Plain pointed out that without concrete planning "anything will change." He was referring to the necessity of implementing a general plan to straighten out the problems the town was facing with growth. This had already been mentioned earlier in the meeting by Mr. Thronson. He said the general plan would be out in a year's time and if it was stopped then taxes would skyrocket.

Mr. Wetsch, amid fears that the arena might be torn down pointed out the need to guarantee a replacement. He was referring to council's original decision to tear the arena down four years after it was built.

The two majority candidates were asked how the town proposed to keep taxes under control. Mr. Plain said

Earlier in the evening council candidates presented their platform to the public and following are the main points of Mayor Gibson's presentation. "The town now had its own planning department and was dealing with a growth factor of 20 per cent."

"A controlled mill rate was well established but only legislation could put on a properly planned rate of growth."

"It would take two years to put out the town's general plan."

"A brief had been presented in June for the proposed green zone."

"Co-operation between municipal and provincial government had never been better and there were now regular meetings every quarter with the MD."

"Co-operation between the town, the MD and the provincial government over the provision of water and sewer lines had been excellent."

"The transit system had been established in excellent fashion."

"There was now an operational recreation board."

"Council had an excellent

there was no such thing as a free lunch. He said the town was looking at a trade-off in terms of what people were prepared to put up with to improve the tax base as there seemed to be a large number of firms planning to move into St. Albert. Mayor Gibson said the town must have an industrial park particu-

record. Majority candidate Dick Plain.

Mr. Plain pointed out that the rate of growth had got out of hand, from 10,500-20,000 in three and a half years. "This might be called somewhat inordinate," he stated. He criticized the fact that a swimming pool which was built for 10,000 now had to support the needs of 20,000, and there was the real possibility that the arena would have to support 70 teams. Their ice time would amount to about 20 minutes each week.

He said the growth for growth's sake had been the policy of the incumbents to the detriment of town residents. He stressed the need for the general plan and claimed that the planner had not yet been able to get at it.

With annexation of 25,000 in the Northwest sector, the town could be looking at phenomenal growth and Mr. Plain said it would not be difficult to control growth if it were signed down to 3,000 by 3.8 persons.

Mr. Plain also advocated "detailed traffic studies - 'do we have to wait till we're bumper to bumper on the highway?'" he asked.

Bob Hudson, Mr. Hudson said he could not deal with all the issues in four minutes. However he announced a way of putting down boulevards which could save council up to $1.4 million eventually. This he called the monolithic system where curb, gutter and sidewalk could be put down simultaneously. This method he estimated would save council $40,000 in Phase 8 of La-combe Park. All the proceeds could be used to help recreation.

Jim Sanborne, Mr. Sanborne said he was in favour of developing the downtown centre and wanted light industrial parks or clean industrial development. He favoured the regional shopping centre project for the town and wanted better traffic planning. Charles Schroder. Mr. Schroder suggested that not having a general plan was a breach of faith and trust. However such a plan would have provisions for a new shopping centre and improvement of traffic. He pointed out the discrepancy between recreational facilities in town and the growing population.

Garry Wetsch. Mr. Wetsch heard the disappearance of St. Albert as a "bedroom community" through growth. He said it was foolish to ignore Edmonton and that St. Albert should utilize all the resources of various other jurisdictions, both municipal and provincial.

He doubted if the town really needed a 300,000 square foot shopping centre and asked why there had been no proposal for a downtown cultural site. He said it all came down to what you were doing in the evenings.

He said it was a burden to have to go back into Edmonton at nights for theatre. Myrna Fyfe.

Mrs. Fyfe said this year had seen the start of a programmed budget at town hall as well as the establishment of a planning department for a general plan. She mentioned a new water agreement and also the strong desire of the town to remain independent, though not at the expense of regional services and transportation.

Barry Bredner. Mr. Bredner was concerned with how to set the rate of growth; if it was too great it would outstrip planning.

Cliff Keyes. Mr. Keyes reiterated much of what other candidates had said, that it was time for a change in outlook on problems like growth which must be planned and controlled. He said he favoured an open location for any shopping centre, "light industry was a necessity."

"One central building was added to the south end of town then all the people from the Northwest and Northeast would have to be moved by a transit system with a terminal down town linked to the Shapiro site. This return Mr. Bakker pointed out would mean a link-up with the northwest portion of the Edmonton rapid transit system."

needed for recreation and culture. "There was need for an analytical approach. John de Bruijn.

Mr. de Bruijn said that the general plan was "full of philosophy" and would not solve all your problems. He was in favour of "Striking a mill rate each January so that the savings could pay for the arena or half the cost of the swimming pool."

"A downtown core should be developed as a cultural and government centre."

"A policy of green areas between here and Edmonton."

"A plebiscite on industry."

"Quarterly meetings with Edmonton and the MD."

"The end of the 'aroma' in the downtown area next spring."

John Bakker.

Mr. Bakker wanted a better assessment base and light industry to "give and afford the good life." He also pointed out the town needed a shopping centre and a major recreation complex. He did not see why people should not wait a year longer for such a facility if it proved to be a good one. He was for the character of the town being preserved.

Margaret Smith.

Mrs. Smith emphasized that she stood for more cooperation between the public and town hall in matters of planning. She referred to cases where residents attending public hearings in council about important rezoning decisions (specifically the Syncrede plan) were refused information. She quoted another case, specifically the development of the downtown area where people were unable to get a copy of the plan from town hall. She said she would listen to what the people wanted.

Frank Lukay.

Like other candidates, Mr. Lukay was all for planned growth, with a close watch on the development of lots and also congestion on the highway.

"How are we to limit growth?" he asked. "For a start, vote for me," he declared.

During the summation Mayor Gibson expressed his disappointment at the poor turn out at past elections quoting a turn-out figure of as low as 22 per cent on one occasion.

Mr. Plain said if elected he would implement the general plan and there would not be piecemeal development. The town would not be left to deal with rapid growth from general revenue.

Mr. de Bruijn said "If you don't like us, please vote and defeat us."

What is a Cheap Drug?

How do you define cheap in the context of health? Sure, some supposedly alike drug products can be manufactured at a "cheaper" price but at what sacrifice to the quality of the medicine? The question is: are you willing to rely on your physician to select the drug product he determines best for you or do you want some government regulatory agency virtually telling him what he must prescribe?

In our pharmacy we carry a great many drugs made by a great many companies. Some, of course, will be less expensive than others but we will only stock products that are made by a drug company in which we have confidence.

Hospital Candidates Views

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Four candidates are seeking election to the Sturgeon General Hospital Board for three seats held by the Town of St. Albert. Incumbents are John de Bruijn, Donald Colner and Colin Ford and the new candidate is Armand Donalds. Mr. de Bruijn and Mr. Donalds did not submit articles for this column this week.

Colin Ford

I am married with two boys ages 8 and 10. I am presently serving on the Hospital Board, and am also chairman of the town's Social Service Board, and an active Kinsman.

I am a concerned and knowledgeable citizen who cares about this town that we all live in, and I believe that the hospital plays a very important role in our town.

I see a very great need for an ambulance service in the town, whether operated by the town or the hospital - the hospital makes a lot of sense. I want to see the role of the hospital expand in the field of preventive medicine. To work much more closely with the Sturgeon Health Unit and home care programs, and the Social Services Board, to develop and maintain a stable and interesting volunteer program for the hospital.

Because of eight board members and only three representing the Town of St. Albert, I undertake if elected to attend ALL board meetings to ensure that the town is represented.

I see my role as chairman of the Social Services

Board completely compatible with my role as a Hospital Board member.

I think that St. Albert is a great place to be and I am doing my bit to keep it that way, and want you to help me, to ensure that the hospital board knows that too.

Artists plan Christmas sale

Now that we are fully launched into the fall session of Arts and Crafts Guild classes it's time for Guild members to start planning and production for the annual Christmas sale, this year to be held Sunday, November 24. The Christmas sale, traditionally a ceramics sale but last year extended to include the other crafts in which the Guild is involved, provides an excellent opportunity for St. Albert artists to sell their work while giving others the chance to buy some very interesting art and handicrafts for gifts. Former students and instructors of the Guild are invited to submit articles for sale; contact Jean Brooks at 459-3679 if you are interested.

Guild news will appear regularly every two weeks in the Gazette. Anyone with Arts and Crafts Guild news is requested to contact Kathy Mills at 459-7861 at least five days prior to publication date.

Donald Colner seeks hospital board seat

DONALD J. COLNER

During early 1973, Mr. Donald J. Colner was appointed to the Board of the Sturgeon General Hospital. By seeking election at this time, he is bringing to the voters a background of knowledge and experience in representing the citizens of St. Albert on the Sturgeon General Hospital Board.

He was born in Winnipeg, Manitoba, in 1925 and was educated in Winnipeg. Mr. Colner is a veteran of the Second World War and is presently vice-president of the Garrison Officers Club at the Prince of Wales Armouries.

For two years he helped coach a minor hockey team in St. Albert. Mr. Colner has also served the Air Cadet League of Canada (Northern Alberta Zone) and was Mayor of the Summer Village of Betula Beach for two years.

He is president of his own company, "Donald J. Colner and Associates Ltd.," and has owned and operated his own business for the past 20 years.

Donald Colner has lived in St. Albert on Gilmore Crescent for nearly 12 years with his wife Donna and children Jamie, 11 years and Tricia, 9 years.

His views regarding the Hospital Board and political groups generally are his own and not confined to any one avenue of thought. He is open to and willing to hear other's viewpoints that would help improve the positive position he holds in maintaining the present excellence of our hospital.

D. J. COLNER COMMENTS
This is the first opportunity that you, the electorate of St. Albert, are having to vote for Board members of the Sturgeon General Hospital. In the past, all St. Albert members of the Board have been appointed.

With the management of any institution, I know that a good working relationship among all members is essential. For the past 18 months, I have enjoyed working with the members of the Hospital Board to provide the best possible patient care for the citizens of St. Albert.

I am in favour of a well controlled expansion of the Sturgeon General Hospital to meet the growing needs of our hospital district, and will appreciate your support in the coming election.

It gives me great pleasure to thank the St. Albert and Sturgeon Gazette for this opportunity to present my views.

District 6 Trustees comment on issues

Don Munroe

The office of School Board Trustee is an extremely important and responsible elected position. It is of equal or more importance than any other elected position you will be asked to consider on October 16th.

Trustees on Board #6 will be required to administer a budget of over 4 1/2 million dollars, insure adequate physical facilities, deal with transportation problems, equipment problems and maintenance problems. But much more important that strictly financial or materialistic concerns as a School Trustee you are faced with the responsibility of making decisions that may very well have a significant effect on the lives of our children for years to come, decisions that bear directly on the way in which children grow, develop, mature, learn, develop healthy attitudes and change their behaviour.

During the past three years as a trustee on the Protestant School Board I have been required to deal with numerous problems, some minor and some major

In all cases I have attempted to gather as much relevant information as possible on which to base my decision.

You as a parent may have questioned or even disagreed with the outcome of some of these decisions. I do feel however, that I can honestly say that each and every decision was made with the best interest of the child and the district as a whole foremost in mind.

As I have indicated, the office of School Board Trustee is a very responsible position. Consider your choice carefully. If you feel I can be of service to you in the capacity of Trustee for the next three years, I would appreciate a vote for Don Munroe on October 16.

S. McCaffery

In January, 1974, there were 3,400 students enrolled in our six district schools and classrooms were overcrowded. In September, 1974 there were 3,700 students enrolled in these same six schools and classrooms were even more overcrowded. It is difficult to find space for 300 children where none exists. It must be even more difficult to teach and to learn in badly overcrowded conditions.

Last January, the Department of Education approved the building of Lacombe Park School. Tenders for construction of this school went out only two weeks ago. It will open next September. Except for board indecision, it could have opened this December.

Because of rising prices, the school will cost much more than originally anticipated. I am concerned not only with the increased building cost but also with the cost to the quality of education that can be provided under adverse conditions, and with the cost to family life - styles disrupted by busing and lunch-time problems.

As a trustee I would try to accomplish the following -- lower pupil-teacher ratios, more extensive pre-school testing and orientation, more remedial work, more counselling, more emphasis on curriculum development, more opportunities for early childhood education, and a greater variety of programs at the high school level.

These things all cost money and it is fair to ask where the money would come from. For a start, the amount of money wasted due to delays in building the new school would have gone a long way to providing some of these things.

Due to rapid growth of the town, the board faces many problems. There are parents teachers, and students who have good ideas about how to solve these problems. As a school board member I would welcome the opportunity to consider your ideas and act upon them. Please let me know your concerns. Call 459-4360 or 459-8267.

Bill Webber

As residents of St. Albert for the past 18 years, Joan and I have appreciated the opportunity of raising our four children in this community. Although the town has grown a great deal over those years, I believe most residents still feel a sense of personal involvement in the affairs of the town. It was with this in mind that I allowed my name to stand ago. My election at that time has provided me with a broader view of the responsibilities of a member of the School Board.

In addition to those areas of responsibility discussed in last week's Gazette I would suggest that we must continue to seek out programs which will better equip our students to prepare for their future. I think of our Outdoor Education Program which is both an academic and social experience which appears to be bringing beneficial results to all concerned. Another area in which concern has been expressed is the mathematics program and changes are presently being made to meet this criticism.

In addition District #6 as one of the largest employers in St. Albert, with some 247 employees places a heavy responsibility on the trustees to negotiate contracts with these employees which will provide an acceptable standard of living which will attract the best possible staff, while keeping in mind the responsibility to the ratepayers of the district.

If elected I believe my many years in industry as well as my recent experience as a trustee will serve me well as your representative.

M. MacFarlane

A summing up of who I am and what I stand for may help you decide for the #6 School Board on October 16.

I was born in Winnipeg, but have lived in the Edmonton-St. Albert area since 1950, with continued residence on Gresham Boulevard since 1963. I was a soldier, a bricklayer, a contractor, and now am a trade and technology instructor with a degree from the University of Alberta. If experience and education are required on the board, you can see what I have to offer.

An election focuses on the faults to be corrected; if you seek to gain office, blame the board; if you wish to retain in office, blame the town council and the department of education. I have blamed all because all can be blamed, as I saw when attending board meetings.

Now I wish to praise parent involvement in St. Albert. If elected I will encourage greater participation, and build upon it, and make this involvement better known in town.

Many thousands of hours per year are given to each school by parents. We have an excellent system compared with any in the province, and will accept unfavourable comparison only with what yet might be. I know this because of my own volunteer work.

We must maintain what we have, add to the number of specialists now supporting the teachers, reduce the student teacher ratio, get those portables installed and the new schools built, and improve teacher morale by increasing their role in the overall curriculum development for our children. Vote on the 16th, for St. Albert.

E.D. Wynychuk

I would like to thank the Gazette for the opportunity of presenting my views and concerns to the electors.

First, I believe we have a fine school system headed by an excellent administration, backed up by a highly qualified teaching staff and supported by enthusiastic parent organizations.

Yes! We have some problems to iron out and I feel I will pursue viable solutions to these problems.

The major priority is the immediate need for additional school facilities. Although an elementary school is now planned for the Lacombe Park area, I believe action should begin now for the planning of a new junior high school, preferably with an Indoor pool, to be built in Lacombe Park. Since provincial guidelines govern any expansion, it is important that the growing needs of St. Albert are kept before the provincial government. I would strive to do this.

With the construction of new schools in the new communities, many of the related problems such as unrealistic busing procedures and lunch-hour policies will be minimized. Until then I will work toward more favourable policies concerning busing and lunch-hour problems.

We need a universal early childhood education program (kindergarten). On this matter the provincial government is quite approachable and once parent advisory committees are organized the government should provide the necessary funding for this program.

I believe that a school board trustee must be sensitive to the needs of our children and of the community at large. This is necessary in order to have a clear set of priorities which will ensure the proper planning for the future. There is also a definite need to have more parental involvement. This involvement can take place at several levels. The schools want to see parents provide suggestions as to the programs they want and how best the school may meet the needs of a particular locality. Parents should be involved in groups which communicate on a regular basis with the school and its staff.

I favour additional library and counselling time for the elementary and junior high. These and an acceptable pupil-teacher ratio are essential to ensure quality teaching in classrooms for our children.

Finally, I support innovative special education programs which will assist children with learning disabilities.

I sincerely feel that with my training and experience in the field of education I can make a worthwhile contribution as a trustee to ensure that quality education continues in St. Albert Separate School District #6.

Dr. Cuts

As a trustee of the Protestant Separate School District of St. Albert during the growth of the district from that of a single school with eight teachers and 100 pupils, to that of a teaching staff of 185 and 3,305 students, I am concerned for its future. This year the school district loses the services of two valuable members to our School Board, one having taken up a teaching position and the other seeking election to the Town Council. This leaves only three candidates for re-election who are conversant with the many projects and problems facing the incoming board.

Let me point out some of the current concerns:

That we are pressed for space in both elementary and secondary areas in common knowledge. Every effort has been made to provide new accommodation but the process is involved and time consuming. However, tenders have now been opened for the core school in Lacombe Park and construction should begin soon. Tenders for supply and installation of eight prefabricated portable building units (to be added to the core school) will be received on October 22. Addition to Paul Kane High School, including auxiliary gymnasium and cafeteria in addition to class rooms, has now been approved by the Buildings Board; and the architects are drawing plans for approval and tendering. Of interest at this time is the possibility that the town might build a covered swimming pool in conjunction with Paul Kane High School. Since the administration building is badly overcrowded, bids for the additions are being solicited. Further the present board is pressing the principle that, the new school sites considered be provided by the developers at their expense. Frontage costs for these new sites are being negotiated.

From what I have enumerated, it must be evident that continuity of the Trustee personnel is desirable. I feel that my knowledge of the implications, and my experience in School Board matters will prove vital to the carrying out of the above mentioned and other important projects. Therefore solicit your support at the coming election.

K. Easson

When the Town of St. Albert received New Town Status in the late 1950's, planning authorities estimated our population would grow to 35,000 by 1980. Three years ago, it appeared unlikely this estimate would be reached. Now however, there is a good possibility this figure could be by-passed.

The rapid growth of our community in the past three years has created demands - demands which we are hard pressed to meet - demands for new schools, more teachers, expanded bus routes, more money, additional recreational facilities - demands on our children, parents and society alike.

More than ever co-operation between our citizens, school boards, town council and senior governments, is required. Co-operation to attain the services and facilities we wish for St. Albert. For example - It has been said, an enclosed swimming pool, to be used by all, could have been built in conjunction with Paul Kane High School. If, the school board and town council had co-operated in the joint use of resources. If true, we missed the boat but there is a next time. If false, let us find a way to achieve results through co-operation and joint use of funds and resources available, rather than duplicate.

Yes - we have problems - problems with classroom space, school locations, the high teacher/student ratio - problems with financing, rules, laws and regulations. These problems will not be solved overnight, but solutions will be found - not by the school trustees alone - but by the trustees who elect who will listen to your suggestions, by the trustees who recognize you as an individual with problems, by the trustees who will act and co-operate with all.

Elect an innovative and decisive trustee on October 16th. Elect Keith Easson.

District 3 Trustees comment on election

EDITOR'S NOTE:

We regret that difficulties with copy setting machines last week resulted in not being able to process quite a number of columns of type. Articles by Trustees Sylvia Walsh and Marguerite Broten were among the casualties. This week Mr. Sieben did not choose to submit an expression of views.

P. Freeman

In past editions of the Gazette I have mentioned that I consider improved communication between school board, teachers and parents an essential requirement for the future. Without this communication we run the risk of misunderstanding, confusion and perhaps isolation. It is important for the policy makers to know what the people they are serving think as well as for parents and teachers to understand, the decisions taken.

I have as well emphasized special education development. By this I mean those special programs necessary to provide all our children with the knowledge and skills for the future. Through experience with my own children I have seen the necessity for programs for children with learning difficulties. Because of this, this aspect of special education is high on my personal priorities. My concern is with the development of enrichment programs as well. I am sure that with the continued rapid development of St. Albert the demands upon the personnel and the facilities of the School District will increase. We must be able to respond.

I would like to thank the many people who have offered me their assistance in this campaign. If anyone would like further information please call me at 459-4633 evenings. Peter Freeman, District No. 3 for Trustees.

E. Lockert

If elected, my promise to the electors of the Catholic

Public School District is planning, co-operation, and perseverance. Education with quality can be achieved only with committed leadership at the trustee level, and this means more than surfacing at or around election time. Involvement in the educational process must be an on-going thing and the interests of the community must be the first priority. In the past and presently I am involved and giving leadership in the Church Sunday Celebration Program and in the Power Skating Program. My interest in community affairs and my educational background aptly qualify me for office.

I believe the issues in education at this time, in urban areas at least, are related to high rates of population growth. Educational facilities and programs must be provided as the pupil numbers increase, not great periods of time later. Classroom sizes must afford an opportunity for each student to learn. As schools become larger in size they also become more impersonal. Counselling services become more important. Larger schools and systems also increase the number of children with learning disabilities. They have a right for adequate provision. The problems of providing worthwhile physical education and recreational programs become more acute, not to mention space for lunchrooms where students can eat, play and socialize. None of these items mentioned are frills or their costs exorbitant. Indeed the provincial grant structure provides, or soon will provide, for all of them. For one reason or another these services have not always been adequate in the recent past.

Obviously there are and will be other educational issues to be brought forward. I will do my best in co-operation with other board members to give honest consideration to all matters of education affecting the board of trustees. I solicit your vote on October 16.

E. Howrish

With the election date fast approaching I appreciate another opportunity of presenting some of my views to the Catholic ratepayers.

1. I am firmly committed to the importance of providing a Catholic education program which includes the spiritual as well as educational development of our children.

2. It is essential that a spirit of co-operation is maintained with the efforts of the trustees, administrators, teachers and all other personnel being directed toward the improvement of the education program which is offered to each class of students.

3. I do feel that our school district must make further efforts to improve communication with all parents. I would encourage and support more adequate communication efforts both at the school district level, as well as at the level of the individual schools.

4. As a 'high-growth area' our St. Albert district has encountered some delays in obtaining approval for the construction of new schools. Now that the school in the Braeside area is at the stage of construction; we must look ahead to the next area of need which would likely be a school in the Lacombe Park area.

These are only a few of the areas in which I am seeking to continue my association with the progress and development of our school district. I strongly urge all citizens to take advantage of their voting privileges and if possible give me their support for the position of School Trustee of St. Albert Catholic School District. Thank You.

B. Poulin

It is imperative that the Catholic School District continue to exist. The accent on the development of Christian values is vital. However, this view must not limit our communication and co-operation with the Protestant School District in areas of mutual concern.

A case in mind is the Instructional Media Centre. A joint I.M.C. would permit expanded facilities which would make more specialized equipment and materials economically feasible. The size of the two school systems in St. Albert limits many programs, a pooling of resources could make these viable.

I believe that programs, old or new, should be examined so that the average student does not receive inferior instruction, in order to provide special education classes. Classroom enrolments must not be increased to accommodate special education classes; the taxpayer and government must foot the bill.

Many grants are available from all levels of government. Let us be more aggressive in applying the grants to improve the learning process. For example, more Federal money could be obtained for the French program.

Communication, consultation and hard work are my main ingredients to assist the Catholic School District to continue its growth.

On October 16th please vote; it is for our children's future.

M. Broten

Many people have expressed favourable interest in the platform on which I stand. One comment has been that many candidates have raised no issues and because of this I would once again like to outline my platform.

St. Albert is growing rapidly and the trustees must be certain that the school system can adequately handle a steadily increasing enrollment. They must do this without downgrading the present levels of facilities and instruction, and, in fact, they must strive to improve the education of our children in every way they can.

VOTE FOR & RE-ELECT STEVE SIEBEN ST. ALBERT DISTRICT 3

District 3 Trustees comment on election

Some of the things, that I think will improve the present system are outlined below:

School District #3 needs a non-teacher opinion. One doesn't have to be an educator to make educational decisions. All that is needed are the facts and there are many resource people available to provide those facts. Any school board represents our whole society, not just the educators of our society. I would like the trustees to encourage the formation of parent advisory committees. This is essential to open an easy channel of communication among concerned parents, the school board, and the staff in the system.

I also would like to see an improved French program, beginning in the earlier grades. This would help our children to live in a country where unilingualism may very well close many opportunities to them.

Where funds will permit, I also favor a start towards a "nutrition in the schools" program and a long range physical education program for girls and boys. These two things will eventually result in better health for our citizens and very likely lower our future health costs.

I look forward to working very hard during the next three years and recognize that some of my programs may take several years to come to fruition.

S. Walsh

Ladies and Gentlemen: I am seeking your support for re-election to my third term of office as your school board trustee. My main objective is to try to assure the very best QUALITY of EDUCATION for every student within our school system. This means willing the monetary and human resources available to us at any given time in the most efficient manner possible. This requires a constant and deliberate effort by informed, dedicated and competent people.

Making "day-to-day" decisions is not good enough. A school board must have a conscious sense of direction and make FORESIGHT DECISIONS (e.g. acquisition of land sites for future schools). Consideration must be given not only to what is good for the moment but what will also be good for the school system several years from now.

We cannot afford to have our schools "filled to capacity" before their construction is even completed! People setting up residence in this town are not being at all unreasonable when they expect adequate facilities for their children within a reasonable distance from their homes. School boards (including ours!) must, as a group, approach the provincial government promptly to get some clearly-defined policies re: new school construction and financing. Unless we do, this demoralizing school construction lag will continue indefinitely and nobody can afford that -- least of all rapidly growing communities like St. Albert!

Our district rates as one of the best in Alberta. We have excellent administrators, a top-calibre teaching and supportive staff and a positive, innovative approach. This QUALITY must be maintained and furthered.

We need hard-working, sincere, informed trustees (including those with educational back grounds).

Would you like to have a medical operation performed without any medical personnel in attendance? I certainly wouldn't!! The same principle applies to educational operations.

I cannot over-emphasize the need to construct schools in strategic locations so that they will be ready for use when needed, not several years later.

Because of rampant inflation, continual budgetary review and a flexible, judicious setting of policies is essential.

I support:

- *universal kindergarten incorporated into the school system.

- *active parental involvement.

- *expanded counselling and special education services

- *extended Instructional Materials Centre

- *co-operation with neighbouring school systems, governmental representatives.

- *effective use of community resources (speakers, trips, outdoor education, student "work programs" in connection with local businesses).

- *professional staff development

*sound teaching of basics (e.g. "3 R's").

*feasible innovative projects

*sensible school hours

*efficient busing.

Our school system should help every student to develop to his greatest potential, to enable him to face the world with confidence, self-esteem and flexibility. A trustee must never lose sight of the fact that The Student is What It Is All About and make decisions accordingly.

For experienced, sensible representation Re-elect Trustee Sylvia Walsh!

Fellowship to present musical family

The St. Albert Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen Fellowship International, at a special Thanksgiving banquet in the St. Albert Inn October 19, will feature the testimony and musical ministry of the Clott family from Plummer Idaho. Club President Ken McAmmond announced to the Gazette today.

"This family, Gene and Carrol Clott and their daughter Laurie Ann have been singing Gospel music in the north central United States for the past several years. They are also recording artists, composers and arrangers and their most recent album has been well received nationally," Mr. McAmmond noted.

Their presentation titled "Today's sound in Gospel Music" along with a genuine testimony of how the Lord is working in their lives will be an event that will be very much appreciated and long remembered by all in attendance.

Mr. McAmmond will welcome all calls for information on the work of the Fellowship, which is non-denominational and not doctrinal in nature. "Our fellowship exposes the businessman of today to the wonder working power of a living, risen Jesus Christ in an atmosphere of love and fellowship. We need more of this," he concluded.

Opera Night

The Edmonton Opera Guild invites you to attend Opera Night at the Sahara Restaurant on October 15 at 8:30 p.m. Several wellknown local singers will be on hand to entertain you at only $1.50, well spent in aid of the scholarship fund. The libretto of Carmen will be on sale at $1.50 also.

GROWTH Rampant Growth is the Problem!

Some candidates support the growth we have experienced in the past three years. They say growth is necessary to pay for past commitments. They further state that a tax burden is more easily shared by a great number of taxpayers as opposed to fewer taxpayers.

I CHALLENGE THIS CONCEPT

More taxpayers demand more services. More services mean a greater tax burden.

WHERE DOES THIS CONCEPT LEAD US? IS THIS THE PROPER DIRECTION FOR A CONCERNED, RESPONSIBLE COUNCIL TO TAKE.

Good service and a warm welcome are the watchwords of Edmonton's newly opened Yellowhead Motor Hotel.

The hotel, on 149 Street and 125 Avenue in MD Sturgeon just opened three weeks ago and the three storeys of the present structure are projected to 210 rooms and 10 storeys by 1977. Presently there are 63 rooms at the hotel.

The overall motif of the hotel is Spanish which goes throughout the building from the lobby and the Majors cocktail lounge to the Fiesta dining room and the deluxe rooms.

Jim Gregg, manager of the hotel has 40 years in the business and is well known to residents of St. Albert as he was formerly manager of the St. Albert Inn.

The basic colours of the hotel decor are black and red helping create the warm atmosphere. Special fixtures which help reinforce the Mediterranean atmosphere are Spanish coats of arms in front of the alcoves and balconies and also Spanish soldiers, three feet high which have been placed at eye level in the alcoves.

Mr. Gregg pointed out that all furnishings in the hotel are heavy Spanish design and there is cable TV throughout. Mr. Gregg said the banquet room won't be open till December. He said the nightly flaming dishes in the Fiesta dining room give an indication of the extra service you can expect at this hotel.

An external feature of the building is the "wrap-around" parking which distinguishes it from many hotels in the region. At some of these you may have to go half a block away to park your car, or maybe you can only park at the rear or front of the building. At the Yellowhead parking facilities encircle the building.

Mr. Gregg, 55 next April said he began his career in the hotel business at the age of 15 as a page boy in the Marlboro Hotel, Winnipeg.

He stayed there 13 years and was assistant manager when he moved on to take a clerk's post at the Macdonald Hotel in Edmonton. His service in the hotel business was broken by a stint with the ICAAF during the Second World War. Since then he has been assistant manager at Jasper Park Lodge and took his first full management job in Calgary in 1953.

Mr. Gregg is as pleased as punch with the new hotel and says it's the first one he's opened himself. Other services featured at the hotel are daily smorgasbords in the Fiesta Room as well as Sunday Smorgasbords with entertainment from 4-8 p.m.

"I think this hotel can go really big," Mr. Gregg commented.

Desire to communicate and depict the mood of Western Canada reflected in the art of Meredith Evans

by Alex Mirlin

Meredith Evans came to Canada at an early age, began his career in art when he was 15, developed a deep love and appreciation for the land and life of Western Canada, and has been widely recognized for his depictions of Alberta and the Western Canadian scene. "I am originally from London, England," he explains, "but I might just as well have been from here because I came out here when I was 18 months old and I don't know anything of England except that I went back there for a holiday. I am a dyed in the wool Canadian."

Beginning his career by doing drawings and sketches of people, Meredith Evans found that he could market his work at age 15. "What I was doing was sketches of people and drawings of people and getting five dollars a piece for them," Mr. Evans recalls, "that was fairly good money actually in those days for the amount of time involved, at least it was a source of money and at least it kept you drawing."

Edmonton was the initial home for Meredith Evans when he arrived in Canada and though he has also lived in Calgary and Vancouver he returned to this city. "I eventually came back to Edmonton," he states, "the pasture land, willow and poplar clumps, sloughs, little bits of streams and mud, pot holes, and land which is not really flat but not necessarily mountainous is what I really enjoy. I like what we call parkland." It is the scenes, the moods, and the colors of this setting which are captured as the subjects of his paintings and drawings. "Even the Sturgeon Valley going through St. Albert is the type of country I like very much. It is a very beautiful valley, one of the most beautiful areas there is."

Regarding his preference in subject matter for his paintings, Mr. Evans states, "I like to think that I have reached that point in my life or that position in the art world where I paint what I enjoy painting. I will travel or wander around until I see something I would really like to paint. This may not be something that I have painted before but it will be something that is very definitely Canadian and very definitely typical of the area that I am in at the time. It might be a stook of wheat, it might be a farm house, but on the other hand it might be the farmer who lives in the farm house because I don't necessarily stick to inanimate subject matter. I like very much to depict men at work, doing the things they do. If I see a character, particularly in his natural surroundings, this is what I like to put together. It is really rare to find a person who slips right in, who belongs where he is." A high degree of sensitivity to the blend of character, setting and emotion is present in the works of Meredith Evans and this quality acts profoundly upon the beholder.

"The beautiful thing about the business of art is the utter, complete simplicity in trying to achieve success. It is so simple that when I tell you it becomes difficult to comprehend. It does not matter how much you think of yourself, or how good or how bad you think you are, or what category you fit into in the art field. All of these things don't really matter. The thing that matters is that you are a human being interpreting things your way. Now if you remember that as a basis and don't vary from that you will find that there is two percent or three percent of all people anywhere, at all times, that think basically the same way that you do. That two or three percent on your side is a lot of people, there is no way that you can fill that market.

If you do your own thing you will communicate with this small percentage and they will be your faithful followers. Not necessarily because your work is extra good or extra bad, that has nothing to do with it. The point is that those people understand what you are doing. I'm just talking about a person who walks in and sees something and says I like it or they understand it, they don't necessarily have to like it, it does something to like it, it does something to them. In some manner, way, shape, or form you have communicated with them." In this regard Meredith Evans feels that the important aspect of art is the power which the medium has for communication. "I want to communicate with people. I think that communicating with another person is a very important fact."

"Any form of art work," Meredith Evans affirms, "is the effect of light and the way you take the fundamentals of light and wiggle them around is called design but light is nothing more than color and color is nothing more than

Meredith Evans, pictured above at work on a painting of an Alberta farmhouse, does much of his painting from memory because he feels that it enables him to leave aside the non-essential detail and concentrate on color and emotion. Mr. Evans had a studio-gallery in the Town of St. Albert in 1964 which was located in the office space where the Gazette building now stands.

light. You are dealing with a very simple plane the effect of light. This is what art is. You can't paint in the dark and you can't see it in the dark."

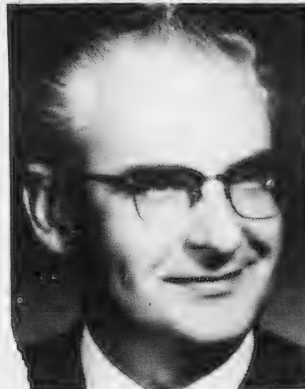

Mr. Evans founded and operated a gallery in the Town of St. Albert in 1964 and incidentally the gallery was located in the same offices where the St. Albert Gazette is now located. He good humoredly states that it only took him one year to go broke with the gallery. "It was purely a gallery, subsequently I used it at times for a studio. In 1964 there were literally no good galleries around. In Edmonton since 1964 I would imagine that over a hundred galleries have opened and closed. I don't think I am over-estimating, I think I am under-estimating. Edmonton always has been a good art market but you know a person from Edmonton wishing to buy art would not necessarily buy art in Edmonton. They would buy when they were on conventions or on a trip to Montreal. But undoubtedly, including the gallery I had out in St. Albert, the quality of work then was lousy compared with the quality of work now. The quality of art work has risen thousands of percent in the last 10 years, in fact I would say in the last two years."

Mr. Evans states that the improvement in the art work has been a result of increased numbers of working artists and the competition stimulated by the galleries as more became established. He also states that he feels that it is somewhat inappropriate for galleries to be located on a busy downtown street. He would prefer that the galleries would be located in the more suitable surroundings such as the establishment he founded in St. Albert. "I hope that I would see a gallery at some time where it was not in a urban situation. I would like to see a successful gallery where I would have to get in my car and drive 15 or 20 miles to get there. My hat will be off to the fellow who can accomplish that."

In order for an artist to become successful and to see a demand created for his work it is very necessary for him to receive the exposure resulting from public shows of his work. Meredith Evans has had better than 25 shows since 1942 when he put on his first. His next show is scheduled for December 1st at the Lefebvre Gallery in Edmonton. "An art show, which I would honestly prefer not to hold, gets you into a newspaper article or some sort of publicity," Mr. Evans states, "If you don't have a show, people forget about you or think that you have died. I would like to get to the point where I don't have to have a show. An art show today is a highly specialized form of showmanship really, where it wasn't this way before."

Meredith Evans states that he finds the greatest thrill about selling a painting is when someone is willing to make sacrifices in order to purchase the piece. He also states that he finds it disheartening when someone comes to him and states that they have purchased a painting of his and is unable to describe it or state what it is. "This might be a painting that is sold for a thousand dollars. You might feel pretty good and think you have a good market for your paintings. Then you find out that the guy that bought it doesn't even know what he bought. Why did he buy it? It was recommended by the guy who runs the gallery that this painting would be a good investment. It really doesn't matter a damn if it is a good piece of art work and doesn't matter if he likes it or not. He just bought it because it represents a thousand dollars today and might represent fifteen hundred dollars in three months or six months. That is a real kick in the teeth!" Meredith states that it is not enough to make money on a piece of art work, he feels that it must be appreciated. "There is more to it than just making a sale."

Reproduced here is one of the line drawings from Meredith Evans' River Valley Collection. Mr. Evans will be having a showing of various pieces of his work at the Lefebvre Gallery in Edmonton beginning on December 1st.

In his search for subject matter, Meredith Evans combines his love for fishing with his artistic quest. He often finds when he is on a field trip that there are almost too many things to do in the time allotted. "I am down there for maybe two days and I still want to fish and I may want to get six subject matters so I can't sit for two days in one spot." Consequently Meredith Evans roams, observing the character of the area, getting impressions of his surroundings. "I want to look at cattle, clay, gravel, and sand ... all the things that make up an area. So fundamentally I use a sketchbook, a camera and a brush depending on the time I have." Using sketches which may only take five minutes to complete, Meredith Evans relies on these as triggers for his memory.

Recalling a trip to the Raven River, Meredith Evans tells of the problems facing him when he attempts to paint. "By the time you get there at noon and by the time you walk five miles to find the spot you want to paint it is 3:30. Assuming that you start your painting and complete it before the lights are gone. Resuming the next day, waiting until the light is right until 9. So you do a painting and you work to noon. Supposing you are like me and you also like fishing; so in two days you can only really paint one unless you are just knocking off junk. But the point is that I did get my fishing in, I did get my 22 sketches done, I did get a painting, I did get my three rolls of film. In other words I did get information on that area and I have walked it. I know it and to prove that I know it, six months from now I can put 10 slides up and relive my walk between here and there ... before you know it you are back there."

To Meredith Evans, painting and art is something which everyone has. He states that he is convinced that everyone who is able to see and has the desire to communicate is able to express themselves in this way. I would question if every individual in the world possesses the gift to express themselves as well as Mr. Evans himself has been able to do.

Canadian Lancaster Bomber finds new home in British Isles at air museum

by Alex Mirlin

The Lanc is the Queen of the Skies according to Dick Richardson. The aircraft, pictured above has been hangared at the St. Albert Airport and it will remain there until better weather comes with the spring.

The KB 976, a Lancaster Bomber hangared at the St. Albert Airport, will soon be going to a new home in the British Isles. Mr. Dick Richardson, a British Engineer and 17 year veteran of the R.A.F., has spent the last four odd months restoring the Lancaster in preparation for its 5,500 mile journey to an air museum located between Edinburgh and Glasgow.

"The Lancaster is definitely the Queen of the Skies," says Dick who confesses difficulty in talking dispassionately about any aircraft and especially the Lanc which he regards with particular affection. "The R.A.F. still fly one in Britain. They send it to the air displays around the country," he states, "When I was in the airforce it was maintained on a volunteer basis and nobody really wanted to know the old Lanc so I thought here is my chance to take it on, I volunteered to do it and I was looking after it for about 18 months, flew everywhere in it. The best time in my airforce career I suppose."

Dick has been out of the R.A.F. for about three years and is employed by Sir William Roberts who is the owner of the air museum. He is one of a team of five engineers who restore and authenticate various war vintage aircraft which are flown and displayed at various times during the year at Strathallan Airfield. "The air museum is called Strathallan Airfield and what we call a live museum. The aircraft are airworthy but we have a great deal of work still to go. Luckily the Lanc is airworthy so we don't have much work to do on it," Dick reports, "we will just try to make it a little more authentic inside and paint it in its original wartime camouflage."

Strathallan is a collection of aircraft that Sir William Roberts started just over three years ago. Sir William purchased three aircraft, two Spitfires and a Hurricane, and the operation snowballed from that point. "It promises to be one of the finest collections of airworthy vintage aircraft in Europe," says Dick.

The history of the KB 976 is fascinating. It served with 408 Squadron for most of its life and it was likely that this squadron, now stationed in Namco, provided the crew during its active service. "I understand," Dick reports "that it was the last Lanc to serve anywhere with an airforce, the RCAF and it was phased out of service in 1964. Reputably it was in Britain in 1945 with 408 Squadron... we don't know what it did over there but we assume that it did go on some raids. I will be able to verify this type of information when I write to the Air Historical Branch of the Ministry of Defence in Britain." The plane was flown back to Canada after the war and like many other Lancasters, it was used extensively in air survey work in the Northwest Territories. It was bought by North-Western Air Lease after it was phased out of service with the intention that it be converted to a water bomber to be used in forest fires, but this proved to be uneconomical for the company because of the difficulty in finding spare parts.

Thanks to a tip from a Californian aircraft enthusiast, Dick Richardson was made aware of KB 976. He had heard unverified reports about it but until he heard from the fellow in California, was convinced that the R.A.F. Lanc was the last remaining Lanc still flying. Sir William urged Dick to follow up on the tip and it was soon discovered that the aircraft was in relatively good condition. Months of negotiations and preparation following leading to the purchase of the KB 976.

"We like to think that it is going to a good home," says Dick who reports that the Lanc will be reunited with the aircraft it served with during the war. "It will be flying again with a Spitfire and a Hurricane so it will feel at home I'm sure." Of the 7,400 Lancaster built during the war, only about 15 of these aircraft are still in existence. "Not too many people seem to be aware of the existence of this Lancaster," Dick states and he has made it his business to be aware of the fates of the few remaining.

"The Lanc is basically a bomber," Dick says, "and it was a fantastic aircraft. Of the bombers they had during the war, they reckoned that a Lanc stood the best chance of getting home again because it flew higher, carried a bigger load, had a good armament and it was a pretty fast aircraft for its size." The Lanc carried seven men as a full wartime crew. "It didn't mean just one person to worry about like the Spitfire, there were seven men to worry about... I've met people, even at the St. Albert Airport who say that they remember the Lanc or have a husband or brother who were involved with the Lanc. People still have a soft spot for the aircraft."

Aside from getting the Lanc home, Dick is excited with the prospect of going home himself although he has regrets about leaving Canada. He commented that he has met many wonderful people during his stay but still he is looking forward to being back home.

Dick will be returning to Britain soon but unfortunately the Lanc will be staying behind. A combination of weather and other problems have dictated that the plane will stay in Canada for at least six more months. At that time KB 976 will be crossing the Atlantic, probably the last time a Lanc will make this flight.

Dick Richardson has spent the last four or so months repairing KB 976, a Lancaster Bomber which has been hangared at the St. Albert Airport. In this picture Dick is checking to see if power is present in the control panel of the aircraft. During his service with the R.A.F., Dick was assigned to look after their Lanc.

"Okay, so now I believe in magic hunting horns and moose genies."

Turnout varies over last five elections

In addition to having been the largest turnout at the polls over five civic elections (close to 50 per cent of 6,000 eligible voters turned out), the 1971 election for mayor and councillors provides some interesting data for analysis. There were 25 polling stations and for the purpose of analysis these have been regrouped into five divisions - Mission, Sturgeon, Braeside, Grandin and Downtown as per the areas in which the various polling stations were located.

As is the case in this election, there were 14 candidates running for office but in 1971 there were three candidates for the position of Mayor (Gibson, Fowler and Bull). The winning candidates received the following number of votes: Mayor - Gibson (1520), Councillors - Bakker (1788), de Bruijn (1811), Hudson (1704), Kambourroff (1595), Lukay (1522), and Thronsdon (2022).

The three candidates running for Mayor provide some significant statistics for consideration. The difference between the top two mayoralty candidates (poll wise) was only a matter of 153 votes - Gibson won with 1520 and Fowler came second with 1367. Bull, who was not a threat in the contest, came in a sad third place with only 161 votes total. It is interesting to note that had he not been running the 161 votes which he received could have either pushed Fowler into the lead or obviated Gibson's win at the polls. Mr. Gibson led in 17 of 25 polls and also led in the advance poll. The widest margin by which he took a polling station was 40 votes - the polling station was located in the Division of Grandin. The widest margin by which Mr. Fowler took a polling station was 37 votes - in the Division of Mission. In the Division of Grandin - which includes polling stations at Sir George Simpson, Albert Lacombe, Town Hall, and the Clubhouse, Gibson received 700 votes, Fowler received 586, and Bull received 64 votes. From this data it is made clear that at the time of the 1971 election, Grandin Park was Gibson territory.

In the division of Mission Park, which includes polling stations at St. Albert High School, Father Jan, Youville Home, and the Hospital, Gibson received a total of 181 votes, Fowler received 207 votes, and Bull received 13 votes.

In the division of Sturgeon Heights, which included the polling stations at Paul Kane High and Vital Grandin, Gibson received 359 votes, Fowler received 303 votes and Bull received 39 votes.

In the division of Braeside, which included polling stations at Sir Alexander Mackenzie, Gibson received 219 votes, Fowler received 211 votes, and Bull got 21 votes.

In the division of downtown, the polling station located in the Community Hall, Gibson received 39 votes, Fowler received 41 and Bull received 18 votes.

It should be noted that at the time of the 1971 election, St. Albert had close to 6,000 eligible voters, five major divisions of the Town, and new districts Lacombe Park, Forest Lawn and New Grandin did not exist. This election has a total of 10,942 eligible voters who can participate according to the census conducted in June of 1974. The turnout for elections over the previous elections (going back to 1967) has been: about 50 per cent in 1971, 16 per cent in 1970, 15 per cent in 1969, 49 per cent in 1968, and 25 per cent in 1967.

At the byelection which saw Mrs. Norma Fyfe elected to council with 1,152 votes, 28 per cent of the eligible voters turned out to the polls.

Mrs. Fyfe and four other candidates were contesting the seat vacated by Mr. Rene Kambourroff when he moved from St. Albert.

The purpose of this article is to identify the voting pattern which existed in St. Albert at the time of these earlier elections and nothing more. It is interesting to speculate what the figures indicate. With the greater size of the Town and the population increase which has marked the last three years the turnout in terms of numbers of voters should be a record. The percentage of voter turnout is anticipated to establish another record according to many observers, who predict a better than 50 per centage turnout in view of the fact that the individuals who will be elected will be elected for a three year term, and there are several identifiable, controversial, and urgent issues being debated.

Catch Musketeers For Good Comedy

by Jeanne Byron

"The Three Musketeers" is a fine comedy not so much about the three musketeers as it is about the birth of the fourth musketeer, Michael York, and his adventures in Paris during the reign of Louis XIII.

York's childhood dream was to be one of the King's musketeers, so he sets off for Paris to prove his worth to the illustrious Louis. By noon of his first day in that beautiful city he has been challenged to a duel by all three of the existing musketeers. The scene of combat for each of the encounters turned out to be the same place, a favourite among musketeers, the courtyard of Cardinal Richelieu's Holy Sanctuary. Of course duelling is forbidden here and the guardians of the Cross try to remove them. The four intruders must band together to prove their superior swordsmanship - which they succeed in doing.

By later afternoon of the same day, York meets the beautiful, if somewhat clumsy, Constance, played by Raquel Welch, Lady-in-Waiting to the Queen. York devotes a good deal of his time trying to woo the lovely lady, and to some extent succeeds. His utter devotion to her subsequently involves him and his three companions in disproving the accusations of Cardinal Richelieu against the Queen. They endure a series of confrontations and near tragedies (always touched with humor), but finally prove the Cardinal to be wrong and thus the Queen's reputation remains unblemished. The valiant York is rewarded for his efforts by being made an official member of the King's Musketeers.

"The Three Musketeers" is a comedy in the truest sense, it makes you laugh; but it is also a love story. Constance simply cannot resist the young man's attentions.

The movie was such a complete success that the whole cast was invited back to do a sequel; "The Four Musketeers," which looks to be as promising a success as its predecessor.

Carma Developers defensive halfback Mark Ammar (16) has just intercepted a CHQT pass intended for #40. Ammar ran the interception back about 30 yards before being tackled in St. Albert's 8-0 win over CHQT Broadcasting last Sunday.

Carma Developers win in bantam football action

St. Albert's Carma Developers bantam football team moved into sole possession of second place in the Edmonton and District bantam football league Sunday morning with a very close and exciting 8-0 win over CHQT Broadcasting. Both teams have shared second spot since the second game of the season. St. Albert now have a 5-1 record while CHQT and Jenner Pontiac share third place with identical 4-2 win lost records.

Canada Safeway are undefeated in six league games and will probably win their final league contest next Sunday against the CHQT team. St. Albert will win their final game against White Truck Sales and finish in second spot while Jenner Pontiac will take third place with a win over Foley Electrical. The victory for St. Albert was hard fought all the way Sunday with both teams playing very aggressive football. CHQT were a little chippy in a few instances especially after Paul McCann had scored the only touchdown of the game on the second play in the third quarter on a 70 yard run. McCann took a hand off from quarterback Joe Tworek and made a beautiful sweep around the left end and ran through the entire CHQT team for the touchdown. The convert was blocked and gave CHQT a life. This was shortlived as defensive halfback John Provencal tackled CHQT quarterback behind their own goal line for a safety touch and two points.

St. Albert had a couple of good scoring chances deep in CHQT's end but two fumbles by McCann stalled their drive. As so often happens, McCann came back with his long touchdown run to give St. Albert the win. Defensive halfback Mark Ammar picked off the games only interception and made a good run back. Carma held CHQT to only two field goal tries, one they blocked and the other was short.

In spite of the two fumbles McCann had an excellent day running the ball as he picked up 128 yards on 10 carries and moved into second spot in the rushing race. St. Albert's Rod Wiltshire leads the way with 608 yards on 42 carries while McCann has 495 yards on 43 tries.

St. Albert's final league game will be this Sunday against White Truck Sales with the game starting at 10 a.m. The playoffs will be announced in next week's Gazette.

Comets offer season ticket package

Claude Contant, president of the St. Albert Comets hockey team announced recently the Comets will again sell season tickets for the coming season. St. Albert will play a 32 game schedule in the nine-team Edmonton Central Hockey League and local fans will be able to see 16 home games. Regular admission for all Comet games will be $1.50 per adult although they are offering a season package at only $18, a saving of $6.00.

The St. Albert and District Arena have now numbered 207 seats between the blue lines and fans will have an excellent view of all the action. Tickets are available at Ozies Cycle and Sportshop and St. Albert Sportshop now and will only be sold up until October 26.

The Comets are scheduled to open up the league with a home game Friday, October 25 against last year's league champions Westlock Eagles.

Jr. Bruins announce new manager

The St. Albert Bruins, of the Capital Junior Hockey League, announce the appointment of Don G. Parenteau as General Manager of team operations for the upcoming season. Don brings with him many years of experience, having played six years with the Saskatoon Blades of the WCHL and the Trail Smoke Eaters of the WHL. Don and his wife Ruth reside in St. Albert and he is a representative with Sun Life of Canada.

As he watched a spirited workout on the weekend, C. M. Parenteau said, "Training camp has provided us with some pleasant surprises so far and with more hard work from the veterans and rookies left in camp, I'm sure that we will give St. Albert a first place contender this year."

The Bruins are now cutting down the roster, and more cuts will be made as the October 18 home opener against Leduc draws near. The hockey club looks good, so fans be prepared for an exciting season ahead. Your support helps build a winner.

DON PARENTEAU

N.H.L. Hockey Tonight

The 1974-75 National Hockey League gets underway tonight with a televised game between the Montreal Canadians and the New York Islanders. The game will be seen on CFRN TV starting at 6 p.m.

On Saturday night the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Montreal Canadians will hook up in another televised game on CFRN TV with the game time at 6 p.m. CTV will televise a total of 18 league games featuring mostly Montreal and Toronto home games with a few from Vancouver.

Cold fails to slow Cahper runners

On Saturday, October 5, in 30° weather, over 900 runners competed in the annual CAHPER cross-country race. This year the race was moved to Mayfair Park from the Kinsmen Park and the whole affair was extremely well organized. For anyone who hasn't been to Mayfair Park, it made an excellent setting for such an event.

Vital Grandin-Father Jan combined to enter a team in the Junior High portion of the competition. About 50 runners from these schools encountered some very stiff opposition from about 20 other junior high schools.

Final team standings showed Vital Grandin-Father Jan in fourth place with 40 points, only six points out of second but a distant fourth to the perennial winner, St. Brendan's with 82 points. We would like to congratulate all runners from these two schools for the excellent effort put forth in a very gruelling event.

Some very fine individual efforts were turned in, especially in the 11 year old and 14 year old boys races where Vital Grandin-Father Jan won the Team Ribbon.

The following students all finished in the top 10 in their respective races: - Terry Tuchscher, Gerry Gleason, Karlam Klymchuk, Malraed Kehoe, Tom Lewis, Larry Santer, Paul Little, Kathy Rothermel.

After his one year "sabbatical" in a Toronto law firm Ken Dryden returns to the Montreal Canadiens nets this season. The return of the 6' 4" goalie gives Canadiens high hopes for another Stanley Cup season. In 124 regular season games he's allowed only an average of 2.2 goals per game. Ken and the Canadiens will be seen regularly on Hockey Night in Canada.

Two long time members of the St. Albert Curling Club were honoured last Saturday night at the Curling Club when a going-away party was held for Pearl and Peewee Quintal who have now moved to the southern part of E.C. The club presented a beautiful plaque to the couple for their outstanding contributions to the club throughout the years. The plaque was given on behalf of the St. Albert Men's Club and the St. Albert Ladies Club.

St. Albert Arena employees Ernie Couette (left) and Charlie Brodeur were busy spraying the ice surface Monday morning in preparation for the busy hockey and skating schedule. The ice should be ready to go on Friday afternoon.

Arena opens friday

If all goes well the St. Albert and District Arena will open Friday afternoon, October 11 from 4 - 5:30 p.m. for public skating. The arena will also be available for public skating from 2 - 3:30 p.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 12, Sunday, October 13 and Monday, October 14.

Starting on Wednesday, October 16 the schedule will be 7 - 8:30 p.m., Saturdays 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Sundays from 2 - 4 p.m. Parents and preschoolers will start on Wednesday, October 16 from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Public skating admission will be 75¢ for adults, 50¢ for students and 25¢ for children. Admission for preschoolers will be 25¢. A further schedule will be issued in next week's Gazette.

Girls Curling Clinic

The Northern Alberta Ladies Curling Association will hold a curling clinic for girls under 18 years of age at the St. Albert Curling Club, October 12, 19 and 26. Exact time is not known but will be made available as soon as possible. A small fee will be charged. Interested curlers may contact the St. Albert Curling Club for further information.

Gymnastic Club

Enrollment in the Boy's Gymnastic classes sponsored by the St. Albert Gymnastic Club have come up slightly and following last week's article we've found the light registration was due to running on the same evening as cubs. Our January registration will hopefully solve this. We had one advanced student in our 8:30 class, older boy's who wish to see about this class are requested to come at 8:30 Monday's at Lorne Atkins School. This will have to be Monday, October 21 because Thanksgiving falls this Monday and all boys gym classes are cancelled for this night.

Most of our phone calls were from parents with little boys six and seven, so the club has checked with Christy Marshall and have decided to set aside an hour 6 to 7 on Monday's when Paul Conrad (our boy's instructor) will start these little fellows out with Basics in Gymnastics.

We will accept registrations on Monday, October 21 and since the club requires a parent's signature, would appreciate it if you brought the youngsters to the first class.

MARSH WORLD by ANGUS SHORT Ducks Unlimited

Standing motionless or slowly stalking its prey, this heron is frequently seen along the shallow edges of marshes, rivers and lakes. It is a big bird, standing about 4 feet high. Nests in colonies generally in trees where the bulky nest of sticks may be 10 to 25 feet from the ground. Usually 4 eggs are laid. Principal food is fish, crayfish and other crustaceans, frogs and snakes as well as insects, mice and shrews.

A meeting will be held in St. George Simpson School on Wednesday, October 30 at 8 p.m. to discuss the possibility of establishing a local chapter of the Waskagehan Hiking Trail Association in St. Albert.

St. Albert is on the route of the trail and the topography of the area makes it ideal for hiking - as well as cross-country skiing. Members of the parent association will be present at the meeting on October 30 to report on what has already been accomplished and advise on how St. Albert can become an active member of the trail "family."

INSPECTOR W.D. JARVIS/ FORT EDMONTON

Fort Edmonton was permanently established by 1832 by the Hudson's Bay Company as their major trading post on the North Saskatchewan River. The river crossing, approximately where the High Level Bridge now stands, was used by traders, Indian-government officials and Mounties, including Inspector W.D. Jarvis, who wintered at Edmonton in 1874 before proceeding on to the future site of Fort Saskatchewan.

N.H.L. Division Set Up

The addition of Kansas City and Washington brings to 18 the number of teams competing for the Stanley Cup in the 1974-75 season and necessitates the introduction of a completely new divisional alignment and innovative playoff system.

The 18 teams will play in four divisions simply designated as Divisions 1, 2, 3 and 4 and having only the roughest of geographical limitations. The 'Pacific' Coast teams, for instance, are scattered throughout, with Los Angeles in Division 2, Vancouver in 3 and California in 4.

The divisions are aligned as follows:

DIVISION 1

Atlanta Flames
New York Islanders
New York Rangers
Philadelphia Flyers

DIVISION 2

Detroit Red Wings
Los Angeles Kings
Montreal Canadiens
Pittsburgh Penguins
Washington Capitals

DIVISION 3

Chicago Black Hawks
Kansas City Scouts
Minnesota North Stars
St. Louis Blues
Vancouver Canucks

DIVISION 4

Boston Bruins
Buffalo Sabres
California Seals
Toronto Maple Leafs

The four divisions will play an interlocking schedule of 80 games, 40 at home, 40 away from home. Each team will play 12 opponents five times and five opponents four times.

For the playoffs this season the NHL will introduce a radically different and novel system consisting first of an elimination round, then the quarter finals, semi-finals and Stanley Cup finals. It will put maximum emphasis throughout on the total points achieved during the regular season.

At the conclusion of the regular season on April 3, 1975, the four divisional winners will be given a bye while the second and third place teams in each division enter the elimination round. All match-ups are based on the number of points achieved in regular season play, i.e. the second place team with the most points will play the third place team with the least points, the team with the second most points will draw the team with the second least total. All elimination round series are best 2-out-of-3.

In the quarter finals the four division winners then taken on the four elimination round winners in best-of-7 series. Again all match-ups are determined by regular season points.

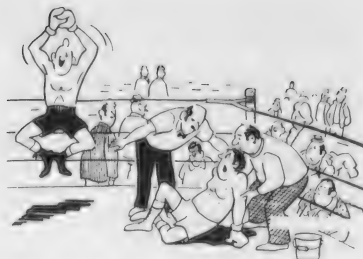

The semi finals and finals follow the same pattern with the advantage of the extra home game in each series going to the team with the most points.

In this new alignment 12 of the 18 teams will make the playoffs and virtually nobody should face mathematical elimination at an early date. With the total points emphasis late season "nothing" games should be a thing of the past.

Hockey Night in Canada will, of course, continue to concentrate on the home games of the three Canadian teams rather than attempting to balance divisional games.

The 1974 World Series will start this weekend and games will be seen on Channel 5 on Saturday and Sunday. Teams have not been decided as yet but will be between Oakland A's and Baltimore Orioles in the American league and Los Angeles and Pittsburgh for the National league. Game times will be listed in the T.V. Guide on Friday.

Look at him gloat! I'd like to belt him right in the mouth!"

Gibbons council candidates express their views

Ron Smith

Ron Smith who is running for office on the Village of Gibbons Council was born and raised at Innisfail, Alberta. He is married with a family of four children, and is employed by Cargill Grain Company.

Since moving to Gibbons seven years ago Ron has served on many boards, including the church and recreation board.

He foresees a tremendous growth in Gibbons and feels this growth must be controlled to assure that debt incurred is in accordance with the population.

We must have better facilities such as water and roads, said Mr. Smith, and small business must be encouraged to establish in Gibbons. However these measures must be accomplished by taking advantage of ever-increasing government assistance.

If elected he will dedicate himself to making Gibbons a better community in which to live, to raise children and to grow old.

Charles Slater

Charles Slater is a 26 year old candidate seeking office on the Village of Gibbons Council for the first time. He is married with two children and the family lives in the Alcove Trailer Court.

Mr. Slater was educated in the Jasper Place High School and Mount Royal College. He has completed a Registered Industrial Accountants Course and is presently employed as Administrative Manager at Solar Gas Turbine in Edmonton.

Interested in sports, he played with the Edmonton Junior Huskies and has coached Senior High School football.

Major concerns which he intends to pursue if elected are Open Communications with Council and the Best in Money Management.

Hannelore Van Noord

I am seeking a seat on Village Council for the first time, and have been a resident of Gibbons for two and one-half years, being married with a family of seven children. Following schooling I completed a business course in Germany in 1950. For six months I served as secretary-treasurer on the Gibbons Recreation Board.

If elected, I will try and co-operate with other members of council and town administration to the best of my ability and above all for the best of the people.

1) I would like to see some changes in local government.
2) A lot more research for any project.

3) Far greater communication between the Public, Village Office and Village Council.

4) Development of suitable light industries.

5) Assist teens in organizing worthwhile leisure activities.

6) Additional recreational facilities - covered pool, bowling alley, pool hall.

Ross's Rebels

By Club Reporter
Doreen Minchau

Hi there, friends and neighbours! It's come around to that time of year again, when we put away the golf clubs and hay balers and bring out the skidoos and toboggans. We of Ross's Rebels would like to take this opportunity to invite you to begin a new winter pastime, square dancing! Our club consists of several member couples who are at varying levels of square dancing. Those of us who have made square dancing our hobby have found that it gives couples an inexpensive evening's entertainment, as well as an opportunity to meet old friends and new. We are starting our fall schedule of dancing on Thursday, October 17, at 8 p.m. Regular dances are to be held every Thursday evening at the Gibbons School Gym to the calling of Ross Richardson. The evening of Oct. 17 has been set aside as a free dance for all those newcomers who haven't square danced before, couples or singles (teens are, of course, welcome too). For more information, contact Bill and Della Gibbons on the Edmonton Exchange or Allen and Edith Demers on the Fort telephone line. So why not come on October 17, and find out that square dancing really is fun!

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Be it known that I, Melvin W. Milligan, of the Village of Winterburn, Province of Alberta will no longer be responsible for any debts or liabilities, whether severally or jointly incurred by LINDA MARIE MILLIGAN on her behalf, she having left my bed and board.

of our water supply and believe the taxpayer should have a say in how this will be done, as it will be costly and we must choose to either install our water treatment plant or obtain city water.

Another thing is the dust control on our roads within the Village, as well as elevators and Seed Cleaning Plant, which I have favored for a number of years.

We have made a good start in recreation and hope to keep on improving in this area. The Recreation Board has done well, and I will continue to support it. I will also work for light industry and small business and will do my best to keep costs down and get real value for every dollar spent.

Wilfred Oliver

Mr. Wilfred Oliver was born and raised in the New Lunnon district, three miles south and two miles west of Gibbons. He farmed, married and raised a girl and a boy. He was school trustee for 10 years. The school was closed and the children bused into Gibbons. He has always taken an active part in provincial and federal elections and was a member of UFA, a member of all Co-op Associations, was a member of Knights of Pythian, 16 years a member of Lions Club. A Church warden for 30 years.

Retired in 1969 from the farm and have been a member on Council of Gibbons three years. On the agricultural board for two years, recreation board for three years.

Mr. Oliver asks your support, that he might serve the people of Gibbons by pushing forward with these important services of a well managed arena and soon better streets and a better water supply.

Two life styles must exist in harmony says incumbent Crozier

Incumbent MD Councilor Clay Crozier has served since February, working on the executive committee, Sturgeon and Regional Recreation and as the school representative.

There are some problems in connection with the two different lifestyles represented by the acreage residents and the farmer, Mr. Crozier said. These are apparent particularly in Division two at present and if re-elected I will continue to apply myself to establishing a harmonious relationship between the two.

What is needed, he said, is a reasonable tax levy for each and better services for each type of residents. To achieve these goals there are a number of alternatives open to Council, and these need further investigation and research to provide council with solid facts and figures, he went on.

But it is difficult to see how services such as sewage, water and roads can be substantially upgraded, while at the same time lowering taxes, said Mr. Crozier. He is working on the possibility of getting additional hook-ups to existing water and sewer lines and is in favour of the Regional concept applied to roads, water and sewer services, and Inter-government agreements to improve heavy hauling roads.

And he emphasized his conviction that nobody with a job in town should miss work because of roads not open.

A further concern of Mr. Crozier is how acreage developments will best fit into the planning of the entire MD. There are matters of amounts of gravel and dirt to be apportioned - and acreage roads get more use than some others. That's why we need the research and detailed analyses providing information such as traffic counts, he added. A split tax formula is an alternative to consider, which also needs to be analyzed.

How acreages are to fit into the municipality is the biggest problem facing the MD Council, said Clay. And it is essential that the two lifestyles exist harmoniously together - we must not have any split!

I have followed with keen interest the efforts to establish water and sewer lines to serve throughout the municipality - and how to accomplish this most economically. We have a new sewage outfall line coming in and are working on arrangements for improved water supply, he added.

Taxes must be reasonable and services must be in line with taxes. Increased commercial and industrial activity will be encouraged - and with a formula for shared assessment the increased taxation will help the entire area, he concluded.

Bosiak challenges Division 3 seat

Larry Bosiak, a native Calgarian, has decided to challenge the Council Seat in Division 3 in the MD of Sturgeon Municipal election. The seat is presently held by Bill Flynn.

The Bosiak family reside on a modest acreage in the Fairhaven Park Subdivision situated in the southeast corner of Division 3.

This is his first venture into municipal politics and he feels he can offer an alternative for Division 3 voters, "which" he commented - I decided to run - a decision it has taken me about two years to reach.

Presently employed with Alberta Government Telephones in Edmonton, his previous work experience includes a Road Superintendent position with a Calgary based construction company for a number of years. His background also includes a position as Motor Fleet Safety Co-ordinator with the Alberta Safety Council before moving into his present role with AGT.

Experience gained through the years, as well as the training he has received, including such courses as Management by Objective, Critical Path Methods, along with courses on Planning, Organizing, and Control, will help, in Mr. Bosiak's view, to make a worthwhile contribution toward an efficient administration within the Municipal Government.

Although he expects some opposition in his first attempt at Municipal Government, he feels his objectives are sound, and fall in line with areas that require improvement in our present system.

"One of his main concerns is the lack of communication which exists between the council and the ratepayer.

*Road maintenance he feels is an area where a tremendous upgrading is required in Division 3 if the MD hopes to cope with the increased traffic.

*A review of the present tax levy structure, and look at alternatives before levying increases of up to 77 per cent to one group of residents, and lowering taxes by one per cent to another.

*He supports a review of the newly adopted off site development charges to ensure that all charges are justified.

The Bosiak platform, as I see it, can be summed up in two words, said Larry, Communication * Cooperation.

THANKYOU MR. AUSTIN

A special thank you to Mr. Reg Austin for the very good work he has been doing in favour for our students while he has held the position as trustee for Division 2 of the Sturgeon School District for eight years.

My family which includes three high school students at M. E. LaZerte H.S., and two of the Gibbons School are extremely fond of Mr. Austin who has shown so much devotion for our district students during his time in office.

He has always been, as our children put it: Like a Father to All.

Never afraid of hard work he is always there when needed. He has kept excellent relationship not only with the students but also with the parents. His ideas are keen and he has shown to be a man of decision.

Why would anyone want to replace a good man?

You have all our votes Mr. Austin, that makes four in my family. Good Luck.

EDITH EICHNER.

Calahoo prepares for market and auction

By Liz McLeod

The milder weather certainly is welcome so that harvest operations can progress. The farmers need more of this to wind up their operations so here's hoping we can enjoy a warm Indian Summer.

At least there are two optimists, when a turkey on the Vic Albrecht farm figures its time to lay eggs and has already produced a lucky thirteen.

Then there's Mrs. Clucking hen who came out of the bush with a batch of chicks yesterday.

Looks like Betty will have to do some knitting for these.

A group of 10 ladies representing the Calahoo community, comprised of the St.

Catherine's Parish, the Women's Institute and the West Sturgeon Agriculture Society of Calahoo, got together at Emella Schermund's home October 1 at 8 p.m. to make plans for the upcoming Farmers' market and auction sale that is to be held on Calahoo's grounds come Saturday, October 28 starting at 10 a.m. with a full day's agenda planned, plus supper and dance to follow.

Mrs. Lynn Finnigan, secretary of Ag. Society, and Mrs. Pat Sobolewski together with the rest present came up with these classes which they are hoping everyone in the district and surrounding district will enter, since we hope to have keen competition making it a real chore for the judges. (Entry list will be published next week).

There will also be tea and coffee available so folks can stop and visit also while viewing all the displays.

Of course the concession booths will be open all day and the always delicious supper will be served before the dance begins in the evening.

Have you thought of what you will consign for the auction?

Anyway we're hoping this will be a rewarding experience so don't forget the date, place and time. Everyone is welcome to enter any or all of the classes.

The Strawson family met at an anniversary in Bon Accord recently. They hadn't been together for a very long time and thought it was a very good opportunity to take a picture of the five generations. Sitting from left to right is Mrs. Edna Criss from Chilliwack, with great grand-daughter Carolyn Hunting from Legalsitting on her lap, Mrs. Edith Strawson from Victoria, B.C., great great grandmother, standing is Mrs. Joyce St. Jean and daughter Mrs. Deborah Hunting all from Legals.

No doubt residents of Calahoo - Riviere Qui Barre area will put up with the inconvenience while this section of secondary road 635 is being gravelled, oiled and packed, over a 21 mile stretch from Highway 2 to Onoway. Work is programmed this year under the Provinces PEP program to clear the channel of Riviere Qui Barre creek to alleviate the spring flooding problem.

Work underway on S.R. 635

Mr. Daguld of the Highways Maintenance Branch informed MLA Ernie Jamison this week that road maintenance had commenced on the 21 mile stretch between Highway 2 and Onoway. Gravel is being hauled from pits at Villeneuve and Onoway. Road crews have been hampered by wet weather during the summer months combined with shortages of cement and other materials and many highway contracts may have to be completed later.

The highways planning department are nearing completion their plans for a major radial road from Edmonton to join Highway 43 at Onoway. Approval of the location should be finalized within six months and construction could get underway within two years. This radial road will connect with the ring road for St. Albert - Edmonton from Highway 2 (St. Albert Trail) to Highway 28, 15 and 16 East.

Incumbent trustees seek support

In the forthcoming October 16th election, the present Legal school board members Harvey St. Onge, Roger Prefontaine, Bill Krauskopf, Allan Keane and Doreen Brison, request your support and guarantee our continued efforts toward a sound administration and good education for our children.

As a result of the rapid growth of our village, new problems no doubt will arise. We are thinking ahead and sometimes must take the initiatives and make decisions. We realize that these decisions may not always meet with the approval of everyone concerned. Please bear in mind that these decisions are made after careful consideration and always for the betterment of our school system.

We as board members would like at this time to thank all the people of Legal and community for their support during the past six years. It has been a pleasure to work as your representatives.

If re-elected we will continue to devote necessary time to educational matters. The best indication of what candidates will do for you is to consider what they have done in the past.

We need your help to get desired results.

We would like to thank the Gazette in allowing us to express our thoughts before the election.

EDITOR'S NOTE: An article on Paul Ledet, new candidate, for the board, appeared in last week's Gazette.

Beef Stabilization Program Explained —

Re-issued from
W. O. Klatt's office.
ELIGIBILITY:

The definition of an eligible producer under the Federal beef stabilization plan, is one whose principal occupation is farming and who operates through owning or renting facilities for beef production and engages in the operation himself, having responsibility for management decisions. This definition excludes those persons who invest in a beef enterprise and are not primarily responsible for the management decisions or directly involved in actual beef production.

PROOF OF SALE AND SLAUGHTER:

The producer has the responsibility of obtaining proof of sale and slaughter of all cattle of the quality that would grade Canada A, B or C, sold within the 12 month period from August 12, 1974 to August 11, 1975.

The Agricultural Stabilization Board will require proof that the animals have been sold for slaughter. Acceptable proof will include the following:

(1) A statement from an intermediate agent, i.e. order buyer, commission merchant, co-operative organization etc. that cattle were shipped direct for immediate slaughter.

(2) A statement from an intermediate buyer, i.e. order buyer, drover, dealer, trucker, etc. who purchases a producers cattle and in turn resells the animals for slaughter. Such a statement will provide the producer with acceptable certification that the cattle were sold for slaughter.

(3) A statement from an intermediate buyer that cattle were not immediately slaughtered but were slaughtered prior to the expiry of a 45-day feeding period. In this case the seller (i.e.

producer) is eligible to claim and should obtain a certificate from the buyer at the time of slaughter to support his claim.

(4) A statement from a beef slaughtering establishment where a producer sells direct.

TWO-WAY CATTLE:

Short-keep cattle purchased by a feeder must be retained for a minimum of 45 days. The feeder, when making claim for deferral payment must provide a certified statement that he has owned the cattle for the required period. Such a statement to be supported by a dated invoice covering the purchase of the cattle and a dated sales slip showing the disposition of the cattle for slaughter.

Overwinter Storage of Herbicides

Re-issued from W. O. Klatt's office.

With the approach of winter weather it would be well to consider proper storage of herbicides. It is essential that they be properly stored if they are to be used next year with any expectation of achieving results.

A. Herbicides which should be kept in heated storage.
DO NOT FREEZE.

2, 4-D Amine	Tordon	Mecoutur 2, 4-D
Avadex	TKK RM (Nitrofen)	Treflan
Avadex BW	Gramoxone	Endavex
Asulox F	Reglone	2, 4-DB
Banvel 3	MCPA (Amine & Sodium Salt formula)	Tropatop
Decamba		Tropatop Plus
Buctril M	Mecoprop Amine 64
Brominal M	Mecoutur

B. Herbicides which may be stored at freezing temperatures, but which must be returned to their original state by warming to room temperature and agitating thoroughly before use.

2, 4-D Esters	Brushkiller (mixture of 2, 4-D Ester and MCP Esters)	Carbyne
2, 4, 5-T Esters	Embutox E

C. Herbicides normally sold as powders: Not usually damaged by freezing.

Dalapon	Tandex	Karmex
TCA	Avenge	Hyvar X
Linuron	Tevar	Aminotriazol

Some of these products have been formulated in liquid form - Amilrol T and Hyvar XL - these I would expect should not be frozen, although I have no data.

COUNCIL CANDIDATE GLENN BERRY

The past three years as your representative on council for Division 4, in the Municipal District of Sturgeon, has been a great and rewarding experience for me, having served as a member of council on School Board, Morinville and Gibbons Seed Cleaning Plants, Chairman of the Agriculture Service Board, Public Works Committee, and Coordinator Alberta Disaster Services. I have enjoyed working for and with you all in this area, as well as fellow council members and our staff. All have been very co-operative, especially following this past winter, which caused considerable damage to roads, culverts, bridges, etc. Most of this damage has been repaired and things are gradually returning to normal. Your council has been busy promoting and endeavouring to attract industry to our municipality, as we feel it is vital to obtain industrial assessment to help balance our tax structure. After several meetings with gravel operators, Department of Highways, and our local MLA, a paved road west from highway #2, which I have continuously promoted appears very favorably. This road is essential for serving residents, ever increasing gravel trucks, and traffic to the proposed satellite airport. Continuation of SR794, north of Villeneuve to our northern boundary is to take place during 1975. SR 635 from highway 2 at Volmer corner to highway #43 is scheduled to be resurfaced this year, weather permitting. Studies are nearing completion on sanitary sewerage disposal systems for the hamlets in the MD, hopefully the results will alleviate the problems. Flooding of our good farmland deeply concerns me, and several of these drainage problems have been resolved this year, but many more need attention. As in the past, I sincerely pledge to represent you to the best of my ability, with fullest co-operation and fairness to all, should you favor me with your mandate in the forthcoming election. My thanks to the Gazette for allowing this space to express my views in this edition.

Ralph Scragg Passes

By Norma Crozier

On September 30, 1974, Ralph Davies Scragg of 11824 132 Street, Edmonton, formerly of the St. Albert-Namoo district passed away after two years of illness. Ralph was born at Lough-ton, Essex, England in 1892 and emigrated to Canada, the land with a future, with his family in 1905, settling in the Leduc district. After working on farms for a few years he took up a homestead of his own in the Wainwright area. To supplement his earnings he worked on the Grand Trunk Railroad. He sold his farm at Wainwright and purchased another in the Calahoo district but never lived there as he joined the army in the first World War. Ralph married Jessie Dick of the Ponoka district on Christmas Day, 1919. After living in Edmonton and Vancouver for a short time they purchased a farm in the St. Albert-Namoo district in 1921, where they lived and farmed until 1966. The early years were busy with clearing the land by hand and dynamite exp., and raising a large family. Ralph was a trustee of the Bellerose School and took his part in other community affairs. He was also a member of the Royal Order of Moose #772. He leaves to mourn his loving wife Jessie, two sons Ralph of Winterburn, Richard of R.R. #5 Edmonton, four daughters Mrs. W. (Theresa) Chabot of Redwater, Mrs. M. (Betty) Travis of Edmonton; Mrs. J. (Isabelle) Ridell of Onaping, Ontario; and Mrs. A. (Evelyn) Berg of R.R. #2 St. Albert; 23 grand children and two great grandchildren. He was predeceased by a daughter, Ma In 1972, a daughter Margaret in 1945 and a son Jackie in 1930. Funeral services were held at Foster and McGarvey Funeral Chapel, conducted by Rev. Lindsay Vogan and Rev. Harold Black with interment in the Namoo Cemetery.

RALPH D. SCRAGG

Reg Austin Seeks Re-election

REG. AUSTIN

I wish to thank "the Gazette" for space in the paper for this opportunity to briefly present myself as school trustee in Subdivision #2, Sturgeon School Division #2. Over the past eight years I have endeavored to maintain a position of supporting at Board level the best possible suitable education for all students, within the financial constraints imposed by the department of education. As a school trustee I present very much the financial strait-jacket imposed on School Boards by the Department of Education in view of the fact no restraints are being imposed on other Government bodies. I have from time to time voiced objection to this policy to the appropriate authorities. The matter of the slowness of the School Buildings Board (Dept. of Education) to recognize the need for more and suitable accommodation in this fast growing area has been frustrating and has also cost the taxpayers in this area an estimated $80,000 - $100,000 in extra building costs.

I have also voiced objections to their procedures at various levels of government. I firmly believe that pupils attending schools of attractive appearance, inside and out, in the majority of cases will do well and enjoy their schooling.

Our school buildings should be used as fully as possible for community uses, provided that the primary purpose of the schools - education of our children - shall not have to be curtailed in any way. I have supported fully any Board proposals in this regard. Sports in the schools, properly conducted, have received a high priority from me. I consider this part of the educational process.

Good rapport with teachers, school bus drivers and other members of our educational team I consider as all part of a successful effort to give the best educational facilities to our great area, the children of Sturgeon School Division.

I respectfully ask the support of the voters of Subdivision #2, in Sturgeon School Division, to enable me to continue as your trustee.

Snug as a bug!

Probably not yet, if you've just moved in. Perhaps your Welcome Wagon hostess can help to ease the confusion.

Miller wants open communication

In her first crack at municipal politics, Doreen Miller says she will stand for devotion to office and open communication between councillors and the public. Mrs. Miller is contesting the seat in Division Two of the MD of Sturgeon No. 90. The seat is presently held by Clay Crozier.

Mrs. Miller says she has been interested in municipal politics for several years but this is the first time she has considered running for office. She lives on an acreage four miles east of St. Albert with her husband Jim, who works for the provincial government. Mrs.

Miller also has a small daughter, Michel.

She pointed out to the Gazette that she has always taken part in elections wherever she has been in Canada, both Federal, Provincial and Municipal. Mrs. Miller said she and her husband have lived in many parts of the country. In 1967 she said she lived in Toronto and the family then made their way to Sherwood Park and then on to the present acreage.

She said she felt municipal affairs were very important because "of the situation we find ourselves in" acknowledging that there had recently been a tax increase of 73 per cent in their area. She said that "we have looked for an improvement in services but so far haven't found any improvement."

She said she would like to see more open communication between the public and councillors. "The councillor should report back and not leave us up in the air," she pointed out. She also said devotion to office was very important and (those elected) would have to spend more time "and I'm prepared to do this."

Referring to improvement of services in the MD, she admitted that it wasn't possible for all the roads to be paved, but this was no excuse for poor road maintenance. "The roads we have should be maintained for the safety of the car and this is one thing we're not getting," she said.

She also pointed out the need for a transportation study in the MD.

Mrs. Miller is now a housewife but in the past she has had experience as a laboratory technician.

Namao girls take interesting tour

In February, Kathy Lattimer, Carol Crozier and the writer, Margie Cresswell, sailed from San Francisco to New Zealand on the Canberra, a 45,000 ton British passenger liner. We landed in Auckland, and then with back packs hitch-hiked throughout the North and South Islands. Rides varied from semi-trailer trucks to Mini-Minors. Because of a scarcity of many luxury items, most New Zealand cars are very old but well kept. We stayed with many families and found New Zealanders very friendly and family oriented. The small islands' scenery was spectacular, varying from the rugged coast of Melford Sound to the plains of Canterbury, almost composing a miniature Canada. Although the average sized dairy farm was 80 acres with as many head, we stayed on a 2,000 acre sheep farm at Fort Rose with the Rudenklaus family. They had 300 cattle as well as 6,000 sheep and by the way, sheep have the right of way on highways.

The dairy products were delicious and we devoured many an icecream cone and six cent pint of milk.

After New Zealand, we travelled up the Eastern Coast of Australia and across the desert to Darwin, where we flew to the Indonesian Island, Bali, Paradise of the Pacific. West-eyed in a loman, an Indonesian home with rooms for guests, and each day would bargain with pedlars who came to the door selling paintings, wood carvings and batiks. They were interested in western clothing, especially jeans, and Carol bought a wood carving for her mother with a squall jacket.

By train through Java, then a ship to the modern and clean seaport, Singapore. One of our visits was to the Tiger Balm Gardens where there were huge grotesque statues of Far Eastern mythology.

Next through beautiful Malaysia to Holland, formerly Slam. Very little English is spoken so travelling was difficult. Thailand is a land of delicate fairy tale-like temples with brightly colored tile roofs, gold leaf covered buddhas and buildings, and shaven headed monks in saffron robes.

We journeyed 500 miles north of Bangkok near the Laos and Chinese borders and joined 10 other travellers for Mr. Mo's three day jungle tour to see some of the most primitive hill tribes in the world. During the day we walked, waded and tramped to the various chief's huts for our night's lodging. Meals consisted of fish heads

Margie Cresswell, Carol Crozier and Kathy Lattimer included a visit to the Tiger Balm Gardens in Singapore on their trip to Australia, New Zealand and the far east and posed with one of the laughing Buddhas.

Report from Bon Accord

By Saddle Allen

An unofficial census taken at the time of enumeration for the municipal election in Bon Accord indicates that the village now has a population of 692. Allowing three persons per residence, the occupancy of 25 new homes and three vacant homes could increase this figure by 87 by the year end, thus raising the count to 779. The January 1974 census figure was 581 and that of 1973, 398.

The Lions Club wish to thank all those who supported their Turkey Bingo. Money-wise it was a great success and another is planned for December, tentative date is December 4.

Canvassing for the hallowe'en party is underway. As in the past a door to door canvas is being conducted in the village. Each householder is being asked for $3 and each young person, tots and teens is given a ticket. Tickets are distributed solely for the purpose of controlling who attends the party. No tickets could mean a wide-open affair and that would not benefit local residents. Due to a misunderstanding some teens did not receive a ticket. Contact your canvasser if you were left out. Rural residents wishing to join in the fun may make their contributions to Pauline Mansfield or Vickie Straughan, 5227 - 47 Street. Cut off date is October 21 to allow plenty of time to purchase treats. There will be entertainment and treats for all and a sock hop for the teens.

The Dutch auction at the Lions' Bingo was won by Ruby Schneider. A special thank you to Louis Elzinga, auctioneer for the auction. Door prize went to Mrs. Bjerkie.

Registration for Brownies and Guides was held on Sept. 30th with 15 brownies and 14 guides signing in. Brownies will meet every Monday from 6:30 - 8 in the Community Centre basement. Brown Owl is Cathie Meyer and Tawny Owl is Maureen New. Guides will also meet every Monday at the BACC with meeting running from 6:30 to 8:30. Guide Captain is Donna Corringe and Guide Lieutenant is Roseann Lewis. The brownies are planning a "for children only" pre-Christmas shopping spree on Monday, Dec. 9, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Nothing will be priced over $1. Donations of good toys, books, jewellery, toiletries etc., will be gratefully accepted and can be left at the homes of J. Chopp, K. New, H. Meyer or D. Millwood. The guides will be serving free coffee to waiting parents. The sale is open to all children in the community. A short Local Association meeting followed the registration. LA meetings will be held regularly on the first Monday of the month with the next meeting slated for Nov. 4 at 6:30 sharp.

The 4th Food Club held their organizational meeting at the home of club leader,

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Samis, Mrs. McKenzie and Mrs. Reynolds. This report was submitted by Club Reporter - June Zewdran.

A reminder to all of the Market Day which will be held on Thanksgiving Day in conjunction with the Ladies Community Club Turkey Supper. The Agricultural Society would appreciate all those taking part having their tables set up and ready to go prior to 5 p.m. Womens auxiliaries for the Roman Catholic, United and Anglican churches will all have tables featuring home baking, with the U.C.W. also selling crafts. The Bon Accord Teen Club have been busy raising funds. They picked potatoes on Oct. 5, raising $192. The potatoes were supplied by the Bon Accord Potato Farm, courtesy of Bill and Doris Carleton. Members looked after the booth during the Lions Bingo and conducted car wash on Sept. 28. Teen meetings are held every Wednesday in the Community Centre. Anyone 13 - 17 is invited to sit in.

The children of Archie and Ruby Schneider will hold Open House in honour of their parents Silver Wedding anniversary at their home on Sunday, October 27 at 2 p.m.

Ambulance serv finds missing kids

By Saddle Allen

A 1 1/2 hour search for five Bon Accord children, missing for six hours, ended when they were found having a "picnic" of apples and oranges in a granary two miles north of the village. The St. John Ambulance Emergency Service was asked to help in the search by the mother of one small boy, with Bill Reynolds of the rescue section locating the children and returning them to their homes. The officers and members of the St. John Ambulance Emergency Service wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of Bon Accord and surrounding districts for their support of the Bon Accord Lions Club. As you may or may not know it is the Lions, under President Dave Latta, who are providing the ambulance for the Emergency squad.

As you can well imagine this is an expensive venture and therefore needs the support of everyone. Another thing you may not know is that the St. John Ambulance of Bon Accord will be the first fully operational non-commercial ambulance in Alberta. In other words, it does not cost the patient anything for any of the services offered. (The cost of a commercial ambulance ride into Edmonton from Bon Accord is approximately $40 at present rates). The cost of upkeep of the service will be borne by the St. John Ambulance themselves, and by grants from the MD of Sturgeon and the Village of Bon Accord totalling $4,000. For your small amount of tax you are provided at no cost with:

1. Emergency medical care by members of the Emergency Service - whose training by the end of 1975 will equal that of Emergency medical technicians in Montreal, Calgary, Houston Fire Dept., Texas and many more progressive centres in the U.S.A.

2. A fast response time by the service. If an ambulance is needed it is brought to the scene by the rescue section at the request of the ambulance section.

3. A rescue section, trained by Alberta Disaster Services Agency and the Edmonton Fire Department.

4. Public education in safety, first aid and home nursing. Instruction in First Aid to cubs, scouts, guides etc.

5. Home nursing including home visits at request of family physician by the nursing members under the direction of registered nurses.

6. An organized and competent group of people to act in a disaster situation. The volunteer organization of the St. John Ambulance Emergency Service is MORE than an "ambulance" company. Rising taxes burning issue at Namao forum

By Jim McIntyre

Skyrocketing tax increases had little to show for it in the way of better services. That was the cry at a public forum in the Namao school Tuesday night when 50 members of the public asked five candidates seeking election to divisions one and two of the MD of Sturgeon No. 90 October 16, what they were going to do to improve the situation, if elected.

The five candidates are (division 1) Walter Pasmak, Jack Thorpe, and Hubert Lamoureux (division 2), Clay Crozier with Doreen Miller contesting.

One person at the forum put a question this way. "When I was on council, we had a 19 mill municipal budget and we had a hard time spending it. It's 49 mills now and believe me I'm baffled. I can't understand three times the revenue and the assessment raised three times. I'm appalled and put lots of blame on the council and the government, because they give the tools to raise taxes. If this continues anyone on an acreage can leave. Get after the Government, there's the real crook; they like the taxes to be high, the cheques to the Government are astronomical."

Mr. Crozier agreed and said, "Sure in your own homes you can see the costs rising, we can all see inflation." He pointed out that it had been a high tax year and that the MD was in deep trouble as was shown by the mill rate.

Nevertheless he also pointed to a surplus for the last two years, $66,000 in 1973 and $18,064 for this year over a total budget of $2,281,631. He also said there was a kitty of $25,000 from the $500 off-site charges in the MD. He said that this fund would be applied in the area from which it derived on arterial roads and other services.

During the meeting Mr. Crozier emphasized the efforts of the MD to get industry into the area to try and improve the tax base. He said the MD had done all in its power to get industry into the MD and had tried every government agency to locate two oil refineries in the area, "but we lost out on the second site (after also losing out on the first) as they (the firms) already had an alternative."

Someone from the floor pointed out that if the MD had such a punitive tax rate how could they expect industry to locate. Mr. Thorpe referring to the fact an industrial park notice had been posted by his door recently said "Why give it away." He suggested that a top tax dollar should be charged for industry but this would be reduced after they came in.

He also said he would do his best to see that industry did locate as long as it was suitable for the area.

Mr. Crozier chipped in by saying that it was impossible for heavy industry to move into the MD unless it located 50 miles out, otherwise high tax penalties might be looked at by the Government some up to $75 million.

Another question from the floor asked why some people in the MD were paying one per cent less taxes than formerly while others were paying 63 per cent more.

Mr. Crozier said anyone who owned six quarters would find that his taxes went down but on a straight through assessment those who found they were paying the 65 per cent raise in taxes were doing so because of a percentage value raise in the assessment.

At this point someone at the forum said in five and a half years there had been no better services but yet taxes had gone up.

Other matters raised during question time (see later for candidates platforms) concerned improving the roads on the MD and also getting rid of the smell from the city lagoon in the western portion of the area. Mr. Lamoureux said that indeed the planning over the placement of the sewer was a hell of a mess, in reply to a question from the floor for candidates platforms) It was pointed out from the floor that the Department of the Environment had promised to clear up the mess, but when there was a southeast wind some families didn't dare have their windows open at night. "And now we're getting St. Albert's crap down there."

The complaint pointed out that there was supposed to have been "a big recreation deal" at the site of the lagoon, but now it was going to be another lagoon. "Are you going to erect a fan down there?" the complainant reiterated.

Mr. Thorpe concurred and said, with talk that the Regional Planning Commission should be scrapped, "we can't have pen pushers deciding what goes on in our community." Mr. Crozier said that the Health Inspector had been appalled by the sewage problem in the MD and had even hinted that "an example might be made," but it had finally been decided it would be better to use money improving present facilities rather than wasting them on legal fees. Mr. Crozier said that the new facility at Vimy should do a lot to relieve heavily populated areas in the MD.

Roads, also a problem area for the MD administration brought a reaction from the forum. Mrs. Miller said it was time the MD hired a road supervisor on a full time basis so that the responsibility for the practical side of road improvement was left in the hands of the experts and not with the councillors.

Mr. Crozier, said that heavy flood damage this spring had also upset the MD's capability for dealing with the heavy road improvement program.

He said, answering criticism about the methods employed by the MD in oiling and graveling the roads, that there would be no way the MD could get rid of the problem simply by putting down hot asphalt. He said that would cost the MD - $75,000 a mile as opposed to $2 - $3,000 a mile in the normal way. Division 1 of the MD has 107 miles of road to look after out of a total in the MD of 1298. At the start of the meeting, Mr. Pasmak said that he was in favour of the provincial government bringing in legislation for the location of industry so that the present tax burden could be eased. He wanted the ratepayers to be more informed of what was going on in the MD and voiced his concern that the mill rate was now up to 99 mills.

In her platform Mrs. Miller said she was all for the location of heavy industry, particularly with a labour force and water supply right on the doorstep.

She also favoured a split mill rate to offset the tax burden. She expressed her dissatisfaction at the allotment of gravel to the roads in division one of the MD and said that more was needed on a priority basis. She also said that the road from highway two running north along the river should be upgraded. For better snow clearing methods she advocated the truck and blade system of the Department of Highways.

Mr. Crozier said that he was for speeding up the graveling of the roads by having large truck firms operating from known gravel sources. He also said he believed in using oil on roads in heavy traffic areas. He said easements would be made to improve the drainage system on the roads which were so heavily burdened by run-off this spring and summer. He admitted that road construction had looked pathetic but this was because of the waterlogged state of the land near roads.

He pointed out that even though taxes were high, they could improve with assured industrial spin off. Mr. Lamoureux, in his first crack at municipal politics said that he wouldn't criticise anyone until he could show that he could do better. "But I'm just gonna ask for your support and I'll start learning right from the bottom."

Mr. Thorpe said that he was neither farmer nor acreage owner but that he aimed to keep the farmland as well as parkland and residential areas in their proper locations. He pointed out that the whole financial structure of the MD should be looked at in depth and servicing of MD roads improved.

The meeting was chaired by Keith Everett.

the Gazette 31 Perron Street

Reeve Flynn reviews some issues

There is no doubt that we have had some problems in MD Sturgeon but it is equally true that our municipality is located most advantageously for greatly increased industrial and commercial development in the not too distant future, Reeve Bill Flynn told the Gazette in an interview this week. And that kind of development will go a long way towards solving our major problem of an inadequate tax base.

Over the past year my main concern as the reeve has been to expand our tax base. In many meetings, with both government and industry representatives, I have pointed out the urgency for our rural area within the Edmonton region to broaden its tax base. The total assessment of MD Sturgeon is now a mere 24 million - which compares with assessments around 100 million in neighboring municipalities.

If re-elected it is my aim to change this imbalance, said Mr. Flynn, and much preliminary work has been done.

Examples of increasing interest in the potential of the MD for commercial development are the alfalfa plant, the rapeseed plant, the airport and federal penitentiary within our boundaries which will bring added tax revenue, he added. We can look forward also to industrial expansion through the ripple reaching out from the industrial corridor as announced last week by the provincial government. As your reeve it was a privilege to sit in on meetings preceding this announcement, and to be named among those contributing in the reports handed down with the announcement.

These reports include the information that a formula for shared tax benefits from the corridor is under consideration by Hon. Dave Russell, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

One example is the ongoing transportation studies which I have been part of as the reeve, and as the representative on the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission. The northwest freeway and ring road proposals are planned with adequate buffering and could serve as a mini corridor between MD residents and the city.

Discussions with the Hon. Bill Yurko have indicated the feasibility of MD Sturgeon heading towards a system of alternate water supply - not dependent on Edmonton resources. The alternative which I support is an MD looping line from east of Gibbons through Morinville and Legal and back to St. Albert. This loop, discussed with the Minister, would also serve MD residents between St. Albert and the city, regardless of where deliveries will come about.

In the matter of improved sewage service to small communities, the Vimy project initiated with the help of our MLA and serving as a pilot project for the provincial government, could be expanded to assist other hamlets and acreages. It is a low cost system which holds considerable potential for both sewer and water services, Mr. Flynn stated.

For maximum benefits to the entire area north of Edmonton, including St. Albert and the MD our council has consistently urged regional boards and regional co-operation, said Mr. Flynn.

These matters are over view concerns of a reeve, but there are also concerns of a more local nature, he went on. These include the success of our hospital, and as chairman of the board from its inception I am pleased to have played a part in this real asset to the area.

I am also interested in a truly democratic process and I feel the current election is an example of democratic action. The people have choices and that is good.

As a farmer I am interested in the municipal seed cleaning plant, with its progress and successes. I foresee expansion of this facility and am endeavouring to assist the expansion.

The Sturgeon Recreation Board, formed only a year ago, should be expanded further into our many subdivisions. We must make use of parks and recreation centres and I have been pleased with the kind of work being done in this regard in Viscount Estates. Part of the MD mill rate goes by grant to such areas. Our service board goes in to grass down recreation areas, followed by our recreation board to help with sports and all kinds of recreation programs, he said. I want to see more of this kind of action.

An area I feel that the MD can be faulted on is a lack of productive communication with the residents. If I am back in office I intend to explore every avenue for improving this situation, through the press, public meetings and an open door policy of the reeve. In the seventies public participation in government has become essential to good government Reeve Flynn observed.

I am interested also in improved ambulance service and the hospital board is taking a good look at the Bon Accord St. John Emergency Ambulance Service and their excellent contribution. Volunteers working in this area deserved municipal and provincial government support he said.

Roads and drainage problems are a perennial problem for council aggravated more recently by an inflation rate of 30 per cent. I have met on a number of occasions with the Water Resources Branch of the provincial department of the Environment on drainage concerns in this area, with a view to coming up with a proper drainage system for the area northwest of the city. A plan for temporary alleviation of the problems is now underway, via a pumping system covering the Edson and Inland Cement areas into Big Lake. Long term solutions are being sought.

Inflation also affects fire fighting costs which doubled over the past year added Mr. Flynn. Yet under new provincial legislation the MD residents assessment base is exactly the same as a City of Edmonton resident. The city has frontage tax, but the MD must provide similar services at a higher cost.

A reeve must be on top of these problems, his calendar is crammed with meetings and appointments, and there is still after hour study time needed to keep on top of changing situations. But the role of the reeve offers both opportunities to contribute and rewards for hard work. I hope to be re-elected and to retrieve the position of reeve, Mr. Flynn concluded.

Multi-million Air

Where does the money from your power bill go? If you think some of it disappears into thin air, you're right! A portion of your bill goes to keep Alberta's air clean.

Calgary Power helps keep the air clean by using electrostatic precipitators at its thermal generating plants. These ultra-sophisticated air purifiers remove 99.5% of the flyash from the exhaust gases. That's good, but it's expensive and getting even more expensive.

Last year we spent over 9 million dollars for two such units at our Sundance plant, and soon we'll be putting in two more.

But now the cost has risen to $20 million

To continue keeping the air clean we have to meet these rising costs by borrowing money on the open market - at rates in excess of 11%.

Multi-million air? Yes. But it is required.

And - as a Canadian company, we want to keep Canada clean.

MORINVILLE TERRIER DOUBLE CHAMPION

Snuff Box of Orchid (Tiffany) a Yorkshire Terrier owned by Marg Beland in Morinville received Obedience Trial Championship at the Edmonton Kennel Clubs shows held Sept. 28 and 29, becoming the first Yorkshire Terrier in Canada to hold the championship. She is also the second of her breed in North America to hold both Breed Champion and Obedience Trail Champion, and possibly second in the world. Tiffany is four and one half years old and weighs only three and three-quarter lbs. She competed in obedience against all breeds including German Shepherds and Doberman Pinschers. She won four high score in trials and seven high score in class competing against as many as 90 dogs in some trials. Tiffany is a resident of Morinville and wishes to thank all those people who helped in her training. A special thanks to the Royal Canadian Legion who let her train in the Legion Hall during bad weather. Thanks also to Lois, Karen, Kim, Jan, Rick and the Anett family, it WAS all worth it.

Tiffany, holder of two top championships, breed and obedience, sits quite unconcerned among a host of trophies she has won. The tiny Yorkshire Terrier is owned and trained by Marg Beland in Morinville.

PARLIAMENT

By Stan Schellenberger
M. P. Wetaskiwin

Alberta dairymen have recently launched an expensive ad campaign, the federal Government has initiated a pilot project to match up farmers with labourers, more than 5000 students have been pressed into service, Mexicans are being imported to pick potatoes - but there still isn't enough farm labour in Alberta.

Apparently, the basic problem lies in the fact that very few adults want to work on a farm anymore. Low wages, poor accommodation, long hours, hard work, and isolation may, in the past, have given farm hands second class citizenship. But these days help is so badly needed, a good experienced farm hand can practically name his price.

There are few takers. Many farmers blame the inclusion of farm labourers in the unemployment insurance scheme about five years ago for the shortage. They claim farm hands work only long enough to become eligible for benefits, then disappear "into the city where they get a cheap room and sit around eating and drinking and doing nothing" as one puts it.

Needless to say, government officials disagree, they claim the real problem is that no new people are joining the ranks because they don't want the hard work and the long hours.

In an attempt to alleviate the problem, the federal and provincial governments have reached an agreement whereby some 25-30 Mexican farm labourers have arrived in Alberta to work as dairy farmhands.

Some farmers in Southern Alberta believe that because of this growing manpower problem, Mexican and other foreign workers will become a familiar sight on Alberta farms in the future.

Although the provincial Government is aware of the acute manpower problems, it remains noticeably cool toward the idea of a large scale influx of migrant workers.

Similar projects in West Germany, in particular where unskilled people from Southern Europe go to work, have led to immense social problems over the years. In order to help solve this problem, I would be happy to receive any suggestions from farm people or people who would love to work on the farm and find for some reason they are unable.
